HOOVER WINS MARYLAND BY 10,000 VOTES

One of Lightest Polls in History as France Is Defeated.

CLARK FAR AHEAD, BUT SEEN AS LOSER

Baltimore, by Majority of More Than 84,000, Repeals Blue Law.

Baltimore, May 2 (A.P.).—President Hoover today carried Maryland in its presidential preference primary by nearly 10,000 votes over former Senator Joseph I. France, in the clear-cut battle between the two aspirants for the Republican nomination.

With the State practically complete, unofficial tabulation in 1,262 voting places out of 1,365, the count showed: Hoover, 25,965; France, 15,818; uninstructed, 1,275.

President Hoover had the backing of the Republican organization which was more successful in sponsoring him than it was in backing State Senator Wallace Williams for the senatorial nomination over former Representative Linwood L. Clark, so far as the popular vote was concerned. The 1,262 voting places gave: Williams, 15,884; Clark, 23,418.

Claim Enough Counties. However, the State Republican headquarters claimed tonight that Williams, under the unit rule, would be named the nominee by the State Republican convention, which meets here later this month. Galen L. Tait, chairman of the Republican State central committee, said Williams had carried enough of the counties to give him a majority in the convention.

Voting in the primary was the lightest in years, the official aspects of the event being overshadowed by the vote in Baltimore on repeal of the ancient blue laws. The city swept away the 200-year-old statutes by a majority of more than 84,000. A total of 142,000 votes were cast on the local question, 100,000 more than were cast in the entire State in the presidential race.

Two Representatives Win. Two incumbent Democratic representatives in Congress held their posts in the face of attacks from within their party, while the only Republican congressional contest was so close that the outcome depended on precincts yet to report.

Representative Stephen W. Gambrill polled 14,823 votes in the Fifth District to swamp John W. Klemm, who sought the Fifth District nomination, while Representative William P. Cole polled 27,517 votes to 6,833 for Edgar R. McShane, who opposed him for renomination in the Second District.

The Republican contest for the congressional nomination in the Second District between David L. Elliott and Edward R. Pitzer was so close the outcome was in doubt. With 45 voting places missing, the vote was: Elliott, 5,327; Pitzer, 5,281.

Delegates Are Chosen. Each county and the six legislative districts of Baltimore City elected delegates to the Republican and Democratic State conventions. President Hoover was elected by a large margin.

High Chinese Official Badly Beaten by Mob

Shanghai (Tuesday), May 3 (U.P.).—Quo Tai-Chi, Chinese vice foreign minister, was severely beaten and was cut badly above the right eye today when a group of 40 or 50 youths, apparently students, rushed his house during a morning reception for delegates of public bodies who were inquiring as to progress in the Sino-Japanese armistice.

Two of the youths attacked the Chinese official, who is directing China's moves in the peace conference. One of them picked up a dish from a table and threw it at him. The dish struck the official on the forehead, narrowly missing his eye.

U. S. Funds to Support World Court Are Asked

(Associated Press.) Chairman Linthicum, of the House foreign affairs committee, yesterday introduced a joint resolution for a $50,000,000 appropriation for the 1932 expenses of the World Court. It passed, it would be, by Mr. Linthicum's definition, a virtual affiliation of the United States with the World Court.

In a recent address, Mr. Linthicum said the resolution could effect in a "practical manner" the same ends as the ratification of the protocols by the Senate under the two-thirds majority rule for treaty enactments.

Miami Writer's Death Is Charged to Aviator

Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller (left), Australian aviatix, and Capt. W. N. Lancaster were questioned after the mysterious killing of Haden Clarke, resulting in the filing of a murder charge against Lancaster yesterday.

Mrs. Keith-Miller's Aid Admits He Forged "Suicide" Notes.

Miami, Fla., May 2 (U.P.).—Capt. W. N. Lancaster, noted aviator, was charged late today with the murder of Haden Clarke, young journalist found fatally shot at the home of Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller, Australian aviatix, here 11 days ago.

State's Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne charged Lancaster with the murder when a handwriting expert said suicide notes purported to have been left by Clarke, were forgeries.

Hawthorne said Lancaster admitted writing the notes, but denied killing Clarke. Hawthorne, in a statement, said he took two notes found in Clarke's room and addressed to Lancaster and Mrs. Keith-Miller, to J. V. Herring, recognized expert on forgeries and fraudulent documents.

"Herring reported that they were both 'palpable forgeries,'" the State's Attorney said. Continued on Page 3, Column 7.

DOLLAR STABILIZING BILL VOTED, 289-60

House Asks Federal Reserve and Treasury to Restore 1921-29 Price Scale.

(Associated Press.) Swamping administration opposition, the House yesterday decided that the Federal Reserve Board and Treasury should do everything they can to make the dollar worth what it used to be.

It approved 289 to 60 the Goldborough bill charging these two Government agencies with the duty of fixing the dollar's purchasing power at its average between 1921 and 1929. This, proponents of the measure claimed, could be done by purchases or sales of Government securities, adjusting the discount rates and controlling the volume of currency.

Representative Goldborough, of Maryland, who had the support of his Democratic leaders for the measure, told the House if these powers were exercised, "the normal business activity of the country would very speedily be reestablished."

But the Republican leader, Representative Snell, of New York, charged the Democrats with bringing up the measure under stringent rules and added:

"The Treasury is strongly opposed to it. This is trying to do something that is absolutely wrong."

Another Republican—Representative Chalmers, of Illinois—emphasized his reason for opposing the bill in these words:

"The Secretary of the Treasury informs me personally that he never has heard on this bill; that his views never have been requested and that he is opposed to its passage."

Nevertheless on the roll call vote a majority of the Republicans ignored the wishes of the administration. Only three Democrats voted against the bill.

One of the Senate's major rows with President Hoover was settled yesterday by the Supreme Court in the Chief Executive's favor. It upheld George Otis Smith's right to the chairmanship of the Power Commission.

The Senate sought to recall Smith's nomination after it had been confirmed, the President notified and the chairman had taken the oath of office. In an opinion by Justice Brandeis, to which no dissent was announced, the court ruled the Senate wrong in its position.

With the District of Columbia Supreme Court deciding against it, the Senate threw John W. Davis, former Democratic presidential nominee, into

SENATE MOVES FAST TO ALTER LAW IN HAWAII

Passes Bill to Prevent Freedom by Two "Hung Juries."

PARDON FOR MASSIE IS SOUGHT IN HOUSE

Many Sign Petition Asking Governor to Act; Boycott Menace Increases.

(Associated Press.) Last a jury disagreement bring freedom to four men in Honolulu charged with attacking Mrs. Thelma Massie, the Senate acted swiftly yesterday to change the law governing trials in Hawaii.

Within five minutes after it was reported by the Territories committee, a bill to prevent two successive jury disagreements in Hawaiian criminal cases from operating as an acquittal was passed without debate and with no dissenting voice. It now goes to the House.

Speedy action on the measure was asked by the Justice Department in a letter to Chairman Bingham (Republican), Connecticut, of the Territories committee. It was written by Assistant Attorney General Seth W. Richardson, who recommended the legislation as a result of his investigation of Hawaiian crime and court conditions which followed the attack and the subsequent killing of Joseph Kahahawai, one of the accused men.

Pardon Petition Circulated. A petition to Gov. Lawrence M. Judd of the Hawaiian Islands to pardon Lieut. Thomas Massie and his associates was circulated among members of the House yesterday by Representative Thatcher, of Kentucky.

In connection with the Kahahawai killing, four Americans, including Lieut. Massie, husband of the attack victim, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Granville Porteus, were convicted of manslaughter last week.

A full pardon by act of Congress for the four defendants was proposed in the House yesterday in a resolution by Representative Crisp (Democrat), of Georgia.

This measure and the Senate hung jury bill, together with a resolution by Representative Delaney (Democrat), of New York, requesting President Hoover to grant an immediate pardon, will be considered today by the House Judiciary committee.

Prompt Action Held Vital. "I will lay all three before the committee for action," Chairman Snell said. "I have not yet considered the Crisp and Delaney proposals, but am strongly in favor of the Bingham bill."

Referring to the Bingham measure, Richardson wrote:

"If the pending bill is to be passed, it ought to be passed instantly so as to take effect before the beginning of the retrial" (of the four accused of the attack on Mrs. Massie).

A jury disagreed at their first trial, and under Hawaiian law two successive "hung juries" free the defendants.

Richardson observed that a similar bill now before the Hawaiian Legislature is so drawn it would not apply to pending cases, while the Senate measure would.

Many Signers Obtained. Representative Thatcher, in circulating the petition to Gov. Judd asking a "prompt and unconditional pardon," quickly obtained the names of the entire Kentucky delegation, and many others.

Thatcher said the petitioners "believe that this is the best and most

HOUSE VOTES PENSIONS FOR WAR WIDOWS

Will Cost Government $100,000,000 in Next Five Years.

ECONOMY MEASURE BALLOT DUE TONIGHT

Final Action Will Be Taken on 11 Per Cent Pay Slash; McDuffie Confident.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT. A battle-scarred Democratic economy committee will start a final pay-cut push in the House today in one last effort to win back economies lost from a tottering retrenchment program.

Republican members will launch a counter offensive on the same front. As nonparticipants, they will watch Democratic leaders fight to reduce pay cut exemptions from $2,500 to $1,000. Then they will ask a roll call vote on the President's substitute furlough plan.

The decisive ballot probably will come at an extra session tonight, after the House has passed most of the day on the final provision in the omnibus economy bill—a $48,714,000 reduction in veterans' allowances and free hospitalization.

The veterans' savings probably will go the route of $117,000,000 in economies already thrown out of the bill. If House action yesterday, voting pensions to widows and orphans of World War veterans, can be taken as pointing the way. By this vote, 316 to 16, the House approved a $100,000,000 cost to the Government in the next five years, just half of the total retrenchment hoped for under the retrenchment program.

McDuffie Is Confident. Economy Chairman John McDuffie last night was confident a record vote on the 11 per cent pay-cut issue will force reversal of last week's action raising the exemption to $2,500. Pay-cut opponents, not overconfident despite last week's fight, promised a vigorous offensive.

Roll call will be asked in a separate vote on the Britten amendment increasing the exemption figure. If the amendment is defeated the cut will stay in the bill, with only $1,000 exempt.

"Personally I favor a 10 per cent cut from the highest to the lowest paid Government worker," said Chairman McDuffie. "The committee brought out a less drastic plan, and I think the House should approve it."

Working quietly, advocates of the President's enforced furlough plan were no less confident. Representative C. William Ramseyer (Republican), Iowa, will resubmit the plan.

MacDonald Faces Second Operation

Disease of Right Eye of Premier Similar to Former Trouble.

London, May 2 (A.P.).—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald may have to undergo an operation on his right eye similar to the surgical treatment of his left eye exactly four months ago tomorrow.

This was disclosed today after a two-hour examination of Mr. MacDonald's eyes, and his physicians decided to hold a consultation tomorrow to decide on the best course of treatment of the right eye.

Mr. MacDonald is suffering from glaucoma, a complicated condition of the eye which results in a painful tension and diminution of the field of vision. Unless treated, the condition ultimately results in blindness. Glaucoma, however, usually is susceptible to proper treatment and may be arrested without serious impairment of the vision. Physicians disagree as to its causes, but approaching age is generally considered one of them. After the examination today the prime minister was ordered to take a three-hour rest each day if possible.

Representative Burch To Seek Renomination

(Associated Press.) To remove "any doubt" about his candidacy for renomination in the Fifth Virginia District primary, Representative Burch, of Martinsville, announced yesterday he would seek the honor.

All present members of the Virginia congressional delegation, except Representative Fishburne, of Charlottesville, again are candidates, although several have not made formal announcements. Fishburne was placed in the same district with Representative Tucker, of Lexington, by the State redistricting law.

LONE KIDNAPER HOLDS LINDBERGH BABY; PALS TOOK MONEY AND FLED

Capone Weeps in Cell As Appeal Here Fails

America's King of Crime in Tears at Loss of Last Hope; Will Be Taken to Leavenworth Prison This Week.

Chicago, May 2 (U.P.).—The United States Supreme Court today ended Al Capone's 10-year reign as America's king of crime with a decision which brought tears of self-pity to the eyes of the paunchy "Scarface."

In denying a petition for rehearing of his income tax fraud conviction, the high court set in motion machinery which will send Capone to Leavenworth Penitentiary Wednesday or Thursday to start serving an eleven-year sentence.

"It's a dirty shame," Capone shouted in his cell at the Cook County Jail when his attorney brought him the news, "I'm the worst of all this clamor about law enforcement. They looked for the bad and thought they found it. They didn't look for the good. I wasn't given a chance. I've stopped more crime waves than the police. Why—"

Capone continued in the same vein until finally he became so overcome with his own oratory that he held his head in his hands and wept. The toughest gangster in Chicago's history, suspect in scores of murders and head of a once multimillion-dollar liquor, gambling and vice syndicate, buried his nose in a handkerchief. He gulped and sniffled, demonstrating for perhaps the last time in Chicago why intimates call him "Sonny."

He brought up his famous trial of last autumn before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson and mentioned his abortive attempt to escape imprisonment recently with the plea that he might be able to find the Lindbergh baby.

"I agreed to take two and a half years when I went to trial," he said, in commenting upon Judge Wilkerson's statement that "You can't bargain with a Federal court." Capone's claim of a bargain with Prosecutor George E. Q. Johnson figured in a recent Senate hearing upon

TAX ON RACING BETS OUT OF SENATE BILL

Tydings' Plea for Maryland 'Sways Committee; Beer Levy Increased.

By J. B. McDONNELL. The proposed 16 per cent Federal tax on racing bets at Maryland and other pari-mutuel tracks was eliminated from the billion dollar tax bill yesterday by the Senate finance committee.

The committee changed its mind after listening to a 10-minute argument by Senator Millard Tydings (Democrat), of Maryland, who said the tax, which had been proposed by Senator Reed Smoot (Republican), of Utah, committee chairman, would force the Maryland and other pari-mutuel tracks to close and cost the State and Federal treasuries much revenue now paid by the tracks.

In place of the tax on bets the committee increased the race track admission tax to 25 per cent, applicable to all tracks regardless of the legality or the system of betting in vogue. It had been estimated that the Smoot betting tax would yield

Oklahoma Poses Hunt For Kidnaper-Bandit

El Reno, Okla., May 2 (U.P.).—Poses of peace officers and volunteers searched the countryside tonight for a bandit who kidnaped three El Reno youths late today after robbing the United Bank of Union City, Okla.

The bandit last was seen at Banner, a small town near here, in an automobile with the three boys. He abandoned his bullet-pierced car and $1,000 in loot when posess closed in on him in the brush not far from Yukon.

Abduction by Three Men and Escape in Boat Is Described.

COLONEL IS ABSENT ON CONTACT EFFORT.

New Underworld Assistance Is Believed Aftermath of Capone's Offers.

Hopewell, N. J., May 2 (A.P.).—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was believed absent from his hilltop home tonight coincident with word from a high official that a new underworld unit had thrown its strength into the search for his stolen son.

The colonel's personal efforts, however, were considered entirely separate and distinct from the new aid, which was described as the outgrowth of the offers made by Al Capone from his Chicago Jail cell.

Capone, who today lost his legal fight to escape serving a tax evasion sentence, proposed several times that he be released temporarily to hunt the Lindbergh baby.

Capone Credit Sought. After original offers went unaccepted, the official related, agents of Capone suggested that all of his followers engage in a concerted move to recover the child. This has been done, he said, on the single condition that in the event of success acknowledgment would be made that it had been achieved through Capone channels.

Meanwhile Col. Lindbergh was believed to have left here and was represented to have kept the progress of his mission a secret even from Col. M. Norman Schwarzkopf, police head, who has been in charge of the official investigation since the baby was kidnaped March 1.

Some thought Col. Lindbergh had made at least one personal contact with the kidnapers. Where he had met them was not disclosed although he was reported to have planned originally to meet them off the Virginia coast.

Gang Split Indicated. In connection with this development there was a fresh version of the case coming from a person close to the family. This report said three men stole the child and rushed with him to the Delaware River, where they placed him aboard a boat.

They took him then to Martha's Vineyard, in Massachusetts, and two of the trio came ashore to attempt to collect the $50,000 ransom demanded in the note left in the baby's nursery. The third man stayed aboard the boat with the child.

The two negotiators effected a contact through Dr. John F. Condon, the "Jafie" who inserted numerous mysteriously worded advertisements in a Bronx newspaper. They were paid $50,000 by Col. Lindbergh through Dr. Condon.

Baby's Custodian Acts. The man on the boat failed to hear from them and became suspicious. He then made an independent effort to contact Col. Lindbergh with a demand for money for himself.

The story was that Col. Lindbergh now was conducting his negotiations with this man and had agreed to the additional payment on condition that the man would establish satisfactorily that the child was in his possession.

Norfolk, Va., May 2 (A.P.).—Unfavorable weather conditions today delayed another boat trip planned by John Hughes Curtis in his efforts to restore the kidnaped Lindbergh baby to his parents.

Army-Navy Game Here Recommended by House

Bankhead Resolution Unanimously Adopted Favoring Football Contest as Bicentennial Feature in Capital.

The authorities in charge of the matter of scheduling football games between the United States Military and Naval Academies yesterday were "respectfully requested" by a unanimously adopted resolution of the House of Representatives to use their good offices in having the contest played in Washington next fall.

Thus congressional action was injected into the attempt to bring to the Capital the 1932 Army-Navy game as the feature of the Bicentennial sport program, the first time in history that a sports event has assumed such national importance.

Representative William B. Bankhead, of Alabama, was the author of the measure that is expected to have far-reaching effect on the present breach of athletic relations between

BONUS PLAN IS HELD PERIL TO CURRENCY

Vast Issue of New Money
Would Impair System,
Experts Testify.

(Associated Press.)

Testimony that a $2,400,000,000 issue of new money would upset the national currency and impair Federal Reserve banking control was the opposition's last word yesterday against redemption of veterans' bonus certificates.

Dr. E. A. Goldenwiser, research economist for the Federal Reserve Board, left this advice with the House ways and means committee. Sponsors of the plan will take the stand today in rebuttal.

Before Goldenwiser testified, John J. Jannet, chairman of the executive board of the American Society of Practical Economists, said the new money plan would be "a calamity."

Jannet recommended that Congress restore the purchasing power of all bills through the purchase of one billion ounces.

"This action would stabilize gold and relieve gold of the heavy pressure it now carries," he said. "It would restore the purchasing power of India."

"An issue of $2,400,000,000 in additional currency," Goldenwiser testified, "would mean letting the policy of currency issues which the Government abandoned 50 years ago, it would be an extremely undesirable step on this ground alone."

"When currency is issued and there is no demand for it, it comes right back into the Federal Reserve Bank. Just because there is more currency issued people do not carry more in their pockets and banks do not keep more in their vaults, for it is a dead asset."

Too Large for Bank System.

"Such an issue would not be sufficient to make a ripple in business; it would be too large for the banking system to absorb without damage. It would result in an accumulation of excess reserves in the Federal Reserve Bank."

"The banks would liquidate their assets with the Federal Reserve Bank and the system would be left high and dry, out of touch with the banking of the country and unable to cope with any situation which might arise. It would produce a depression."

Questioned by committee members, Goldenwiser said the net effect of the Federal Reserve System's purchases of $400,000,000 of Government securities in the month ended April 27, "was to put the member banks out of debt to the extent of $400,000,000 and increase the basis for their operations by another $200,000,000."

It. They were Representatives Douglas, of Arizona; Huddleston, of Alabama; and Williams, of Texas.

Mr. Goldenwiser advanced these arguments for the measure.

"All authorities agree that it is impossible for the debts of the country to be paid at the present price level; that unless the price level is raised the business of the country is headed for inevitable bankruptcy and that the present price level is unjust to debtors."

He maintained a reduction in the purchasing power of the dollar from the $1.60 it now represents to the $1.10 averaged from 1921 to 1929, "would make lower standards of living unnecessary, would just back up wages at the predepression level, would make unnecessary the process of painful economic readjustment which will have to be consummated if commodity prices are not raised to the level of 1929."

Representative LaGuardia, of New York, Republican opponent of wage cuts, endorsed the bill with this statement:

"The great authorities of the Treasury and Government had all their say and the country couldn't be in a worse condition. This is a heroic remedy for a serious situation. If this bill passes today there is no more to say. I am passing it today because I believe it is the only way to pass a wage reduction bill tomorrow, but instead we ought to give compensatory increases."

New York, May 2 (A.P.)—Reports were current in banking quarters today that Eugene Meyer, head of the Federal Reserve Board, has called a number of leading commercial bankers to Washington to ask their full cooperation in repaying their loans to the Federal Reserve Bank.

Informally, some bankers have described the New York part of the credit expansion program as entirely satisfactory. It was said that member banks were repaying their loans to the New York Federal Reserve Bank and were also extending more credit to commercial users.

Since March 9, the reserves of member banks of the New York district have increased $189,000,000. In the same period the total loans and investments of member banks have increased $104,000,000 and bank credit has expanded $151,000,000.

Justice Vitally Essential, Hoover Tells Conference

Welcomes Delegates in Message Read at Opening Session: Payne Declares Opposition to Cut in Military and Naval Establishments.

By JAMES WALDO FAWCETT.

"Justice," President Hoover yesterday told the members of the American Conference on Institutions for the Establishment of International Justice, assembled for their opening session at the Chamber of Commerce of the United States Building, "is the safest corner stone upon which people may erect their entire social organization."

The President's message, read to the meeting, marked the actual beginning of the conference's work.

"It is highly gratifying," he said, "that the American Peace Society has invited you, as friends of international order, to confer this week in Washington on questions relating to the further establishment of international justice."

"From the beginnings of history, human beings have turned to justice as the safeguard of their inalienable rights in life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Impartial justice has offered mankind its most certain escape from arbitrary power. Justice is also the safest corner stone upon which people may erect their entire social organization."

"Now that nations have to function with more and more regard for the views and interests of other nations, a constant attention to the processes of justice is vitally necessary. Experience proves that in every civilized people there is an abiding faith in a fair trial and honest justice, in the possibility of lessening reasons for irritation and complaint; a devotion to elevated purposes of right, to laws and to impartial courts."

"The only assurance of the equality of justice is the possibility of lessening reasons for irritation and complaint; a devotion to elevated purposes of right, to laws and to impartial courts."

"When currency is issued and there is no demand for it, it comes right back into the Federal Reserve Bank. Just because there is more currency issued people do not carry more in their pockets and banks do not keep more in their vaults, for it is a dead asset."

Will Earn High Praise.

"If, in your special commissions and in your general conference, you can help to promote institutions for the establishment of a more adequate and more effective international justice, you will earn high praise."

"I greet you most cordially, and I wish you success as you meet in this city, and I wish you to come from all unselfish efforts in behalf of our common humanity."

Mr. Hoover's greeting followed addresses of welcome by Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, president, Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia, and Dr. Cloyd H. Marvin, chairman of the District of Columbia Board of Commissioners.

The principal subject for consideration at the morning session was the "Business Aspects of International Justice," which was presented by Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

he bow his head in discouragement before the problems which we face? If that inanimate clay which lies in this sacred place should breathe again, would George Washington say to us that all is lost? Would he who brought the everlasting torch of liberty for its safety after all the years of its glorious history? I say no.

Would Not Be Dismayed.

"George Washington, with that steady, inflexible purpose, that judgment and knowledge which he possessed, would calm the turbulent waters of our present unrest and bid us go on to a greater destiny."

No greater thing could we do for ourselves than to stand here at this solemn hour and say we will go forward, with George Washington, and, under God's guidance, we will achieve, we will succeed, we will preserve that which he gave us."

At the evening session of the conference, Dr. Francis P. Gaines, president of Washington University, presided. He gave the invocation, and the prayer, and the benediction.

The district of Columbia Supreme Court has modified the decree, but the Government appealed.

Hunt for Missing Cadets Unavailing

Launches and Planes Fail to Find Trace of Canoe's Occupants.

West Point, May 2 (A.P.)—Alan J. Light and Leo A. Skelm, West Point cadets, who disappeared Saturday on a canoe trip, were sought again today by water and air, but hopes for their recovery lessened.

Two launches in charge of an Army officer patrolled the Hudson River all day from here to Newburgh, poking in coves along both banks. An airplane made several flights over the area without success.

The search will be continued daily with two launches of Cadet Light and two planes of Cadet Light.

Packers Lose Plea to Modify Decree

Supreme Court Declines to Liberalize Agreement as to Business.

(Associated Press.)

Modification of the packers' consent decree to permit the packers to deal in wholesale in groceries and other lines not related to the packing house industry was rejected yesterday by the Supreme Court.

Under the ruling the packers will be prohibited from continuing in their present lines of business and must comply with the terms of the consent decree which restricted their activities exclusively to meat and other slaughter house products.

The opinion was handed down by Justice Cardozo.

The tremendous business of the packers was emphasized by Justice Cardozo, who pointed out that the original decree was insisted upon because of fear that the companies would otherwise be able to crush their smaller rivals.

He said the packers were in a position today to do under the modified decree what was feared when the consent decree was entered.

Justice Butler dissented, stating that developments in the business of the packers since the original decree was entered had reduced profits of the packers to two cents on the dollar and one of them had been forced out of business.

To enable the packers to deal in groceries, he said, would not create a monopoly, but to the contrary the prohibition to do so would tend to create a monopoly in groceries by others.

Justice Hughes and Justice Sutherland and Stone, because of their ineligibility, took no part in the decision.

Justice Van Devanter joined with Justice Butler in dissenting.

The district of Columbia Supreme Court has modified the decree, but the Government appealed.

Bonus Passage Certain, V. F. W. Head Declares

Methods Employed Are Held Violation of Rights by Supreme Court.

By EDWARD T. FOLLARD.

The United States Supreme Court ruled yesterday that the method used by Texas Democrats to bar Negroes from the polls was illegal in that it deprives the colored citizens of their constitutional rights under the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments. The decision of the court was close—5 to 4.

The decision, while it may be hailed as a victory for the colored people, is not expected to make voting any easier for members of that race in the Southland. Texas here predicted that the Democrats would soon find a new method of barring Negroes from the ballot.

In South Carolina, the Democratic party employs what is known as the "grandfather clause." A Negro, in order to vote in the Democratic election, must prove that his grandfather voted for the Democratic ticket in 1878. This is next to impossible, because the Negroes of that time were not allowed to vote. There are enough doubtful ones to swing the election.

Party Fight Not Denied.

In other States of the South the Democrats employ various other methods, all of which have the same effect.

In passing on the Texas case yesterday, the Supreme Court did not deny the right of a political party to bar Negroes from its primary elections. The issue was whether the Democratic organization, in barring Negroes from its primary, had done so by authority of the Texas Legislature.

Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo, who wrote the majority opinion, held that this authority did not come from the State. He was joined in this view by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes and Justices Louis D. Brandeis, Harlan P. Stone and Owen J. Roberts.

Justice James C. McReynolds, who wrote the dissenting opinion, denied the constitutionality of the action of the State, and he was joined in his opinion by Justices Willis Van Devanter, George Sutherland and Pierce Butler.

Election Judges Sued.

The principals in the case were L. A. Nixon, a Negro, of El Paso, Tex., and James C. Gordon and C. H. Kolbe, Democratic election judges of that city. In 1928 Gordon and Kolbe refused to allow Nixon to vote in the primary. Nixon sued for $5,000 damages, claiming that his constitutional rights had been infringed. The Texas courts ruled against him and the case came here on a writ of certiorari.

This was the second time a case involving Nixon had been before the Supreme Court. In 1926 he was successful in having the court hold that a Texas statute was an infringement of his constitutional rights. This statute said that "no person who is a Negro be eligible to participate in a Democratic primary election."

After the court's action, the Texas Legislature repealed the statute and passed another one. This said that "every political party in this State through its executive committee shall have the power to prescribe the qualifications of its own members."

Thereafter the State executive committee of the Democratic party adopted a resolution that "all white Democrats who are qualified to participate in the 1928 primary."

Justice Cardozo asked for a ballot in this primary and when Gordon and Kolbe denied him one, he decided to sue.

Attorneys for the Democratic judges argued that a political party was a voluntary association and, therefore, had the inherent right to determine its own membership just as a golf club or a Masonic lodge does.

Justice Cardozo and four other members of the court, however, held that the action of the Democratic State executive committee in barring Negroes was based on the act of the Legislature, and that, therefore, the committee was in effect an agency of the State.

"Delegates of the State's powers," said the decision, "have changed the official functions in such a way as to discriminate individually between white citizens and blacks."

State Agency Is Denied.

"The fourteenth amendment, adopted as it was with special solicitude for the equal protection of the members of the Negro race, lays a duty upon the State to level by its judgment these barriers of color."

Justice McReynolds, in denying that the act of the Texas Legislature converted the Democratic executive committee into a State agency, said: "The language employed clearly imports that the political party, not the State, may act through the committee."

"The resolution of the executive committee was the voice of the party and top from appellant no right guaranteed by the Federal Constitution or laws."

Inasmuch as the court did not find in advance on such a proceeding it is expected that the Texas Democrats will take action against Negro voters at their State convention.

New York, May 2 (A.P.)—The Supreme Court's decision declaring unconstitutional the Texas primary law was greeted by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People today as another step toward complete enfranchisement of Southern Negroes.

Walter White, secretary of the association, said in a statement that "We are elated at this signal victory, in which all loyal Americans will join, against the discrimination of Negroes. We intend to push vigorously our fight against disenfranchisement of Negro voters in Southern States."

Pershing's War Driver Dies of Heart Disease

Columbus, Ohio, May 2 (A.P.)—Elgin Braine, 40, who served as Gen. Pershing's personal chauffeur many months during the World War, died of heart disease here today.

A resident of Columbus for the last twelve years, Braine was district sales manager for the American Steel & Wire Co., of Chicago. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Braine, and a brother, Lawrence D. Braine, all of Brooklyn, N. Y.

FAVORITE-SON NOTES
HELL ROOSEVELT ANDSupporters Declare These Blocs of Delegates Are
"Ace in Hole."

New York, May 2 (A.P.).—Captains of Franklin D. Roosevelt's presidential nomination campaign consider the several hundred convention voters already assured to "favorite sons" as their "ace in the hole," they said today.

Convinced the New York Governor will win tomorrow's significant preferential primary in California by 20,000 to 50,000, they talked, however, of what they will do if Roosevelt does not have the 770 votes necessary for nomination when the convention opens.

They denied published reports they were planning a campaign to reduce the percentage of votes necessary for nomination from two-thirds to a plain majority.

Idea Not Even Discussed.

The abolition of the present rule, adopted 100 years ago, was suggested in 1924 and 1928, but at Roosevelt headquarters it was said such strategy was not even being discussed this year.

Instead, the governor's supporters hope to obtain, after the first "courtly vote," the support of such powerful blocs of delegates as the 52 from Ohio, assured for Gov. George White; the 58 in Illinois pledged to Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, and the 34 in Virginia, expected to vote for former Gov. Harry P. Byrd.

A definite movement is on foot to have the Roosevelt forces offer the vice presidential berth to Gov. White. There is also talk in political circles here of the possibility of Byrd being offered a post in Roosevelt's Cabinet if the latter is elected.

Need of Blocs Admitted.

Early in the campaign the Roosevelt forces made it clear they were intentionally staying out of "favorite son" States.

James A. Farley, field marshal of the Roosevelt forces, had said publicly the support of some of these "favorite son" blocs may be necessary to insure the New York Governor the 770 votes needed.

The instruction of the Rhode Island delegation today for Smith, and the defeat of a resolution to instruct for Roosevelt by a vote of 172 to 23, brought a smile to the "happy warriors' face, but at Roosevelt headquarters all the talk was of "what's going to happen tomorrow."

HOOVER OVER FRANCHISE
IN MARYLAND PREFERENTIAL

Senator Hoover's victory assured him of the State's nineteen delegates in the national convention this fall. Gov. Ritchie will be given Maryland's sixteen votes in the Democratic national convention.

Senator Millard E. Tydings, Maryland's incumbent Democratic representative in the upper house, was unopposed for renomination.

President Polls 14 to 1
In Montgomery County

Unofficial returns last night gave President Hoover a majority of approximately 14 to 1 in the Republican primary election yesterday in Montgomery County, Md. Former Senator Joseph I. France, of Maryland, polled 77 votes while Mr. Hoover was named on 1,071 ballots.

There were 11 votes for an unopposed delegate, which are counted as 11 votes for Hoover. A generally light vote was reported.

Mr. Gambrill's total vote in the county, from all but two precincts, was 1,698, while Dr. Klemm, a Mount Rainier man, polled only 135. He was beaten even in his own precinct, did not carry a single district, and in five received no votes at all.

Williams' total was 643, while Clark was the choice on 609 ballots.

to be taken up by the committee today, when Postmaster General Walter Brown is to appear before the committee in executive meeting.

Fight Over Tax on Stocks.

There has been a lengthy fight over the stock exchange tax. The House bill imposes a tax of one-quarter of 1 per cent based on the selling price of stocks, with a minimum of 4 cents a share.

Senator David A. Reed (Republican), of Pennsylvania, has proposed that the tax be made a straight 4 cents a share.

James Couzens (Republican), of Michigan, has proposed a graduated tax, ranging from 2 cents a share on stocks selling for $5 or less to 10 cents a share on stocks selling for $100 or more.

Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills has favored the Reed plan. The committee is expected to make some change in the House tax.

Although approval was given to many administrative provisions affecting the inheritance tax, the committee has yet to pass on the rates which it shall include in the bill.

There is about as much divergence of opinion in the committee itself as in the Senate and House as a whole.

New York yesterday added its voice to the States which have entered protests against the House provision for a 10 per cent rate on prize-fight admissions, but exempted admissions to college athletics and to the Olympic games to be held in Los Angeles.

Message Exemption Altered.

Other changes included removal of the House exemption of leased wires and radio from the message tax, but raised the exemption on telephone and telegraph messages from 30 to 50 cents, and applied a graduated scale beginning with 10 cents on messages costing between 50 cents and $1, and going to 25 cents on messages over $1.

It knocked out the House increase from 1 to 5 cents on future transactions on produce exchanges; approved a 10 per cent rate on safety deposit boxes but changed the tax from the lessor to the lessee; approved real property conveyance taxes of 50 cents on $100 to $500, and 10 cents on each additional $500 of value, but exempted deeds in escrow deposited before April 1; increased the tax from 5 to 10 cents on each $100 of value of bond issues.

The tax of 5 per cent of the carrying charge levied in the House bill on pipe lines was approved with the important amendment that it was extended to petroleum products, including gasoline.

Several important provisions remain for decision. Among these is the increase in postal rates and the stock and bond transfer tax. Postal rates will be increased by 10 per cent.

BROOKENS VICTOR
BY MARGOT OF VOTEClose Race in Hyattsville
Feature of Elections in Prince Georges.Hoover and Gambrell Win
Easily in Prince Georges

The race for the Fourth Ward council seat in Hyattsville, which was won by Councilman Parley P. Brooks, was a close one, provided the high point of interest in the town elections which were held yesterday in Hyattsville, Mount Rainier, Riverdale, Bladensburg, Seat Pleasant and Cheverly.

Dr. Brooks, the incumbent, received 80 votes to 79 cast for E. B. Wiley, former Councilman who resigned last year, to run for Mayor.

In the First Ward, the incumbent, Howard A. Harrison, was victor over Charles L. Devillibus by a large majority. Mr. Harrison polled 140 votes to 55 for Mr. Devillibus. Thomas E. Hume, the Second Ward incumbent, and A. C. Moon, present Councilman from the Third, were unopposed, and received a large vote for their reelection, although he was unopposed.

Curson Riverdale Mayor.

In Riverdale, former Councilman W. A. Carson, was chosen mayor by a vote nearly twice that of the combined vote of his opponents.

He was the choice of 180 persons, while Harry A. Barker, who polled 90 votes, was the choice of 70 for Reuben Gordon. E. R. Salmon was victor in the First Ward, with 42 to D. W. Thompson's 27. Mr. Thompson was running for reelection, as was H. R. Pugh, who was unopposed in the Second Ward.

A. R. Bowers, also a present Councilman, was reelected in the Fourth Ward, with 110 to 10. He received 53, while his opponent, William C. Wedding, polled 32. Harry C. Weeks, treasurer for four years and who was not opposed, received a vote of 256.

In Mount Rainier, Roger W. Moser was elected to the town council from the Second Ward with a vote of 106. His opponent, John T. Dwyer, polled 76 votes.

B. Mathias, who was unopposed, was reelected to the council from the Third Ward, receiving a complimentary vote of 183.

New Faces on Council.

Two of the present board of commissioners were reelected in Bladensburg, while three new faces appeared on the council. The five persons who were elected and their votes were: Elroy Gash, 178; W. R. Beattie, 156; Frank Mace, 146; Ellsworth Pool, 145, and Samuel Mostow, 143.

Mr. Mace and Mr. Mostow were members of the board last year, as were Mr. O. Brigham, 49 votes; Baxter D. Dutton, 48 votes; and John E. 139 votes, while Mrs. Lillian G. Morrison polled 118.

Four members of the Seat Pleasant town council were reelected last night, only one of last year's members being nosed out by the four candidates. Those elected and their votes were: George V. Armstrong, 176; Edwin M. Fisher, 110; Van Moreland, 106; C. A. Penkert, 103, and Robert E. Fisher, 103.

Mr. Penkert will take the place of the late Councilman Arthur S. Jones, who received 42 votes. John W. Hampton polled 55, while Carol C. Carter, 56, and George Embrey, 71.

Completion Tomorrow.

Both Senator Smoot and Senator Pat Harrison (Democrat), of Mississippi, at the end of the day estimated that the tax bill will be completed by the committee tomorrow. Senator James E. Watson (Republican), of Indiana, majority leader, also was optimistic.

Senator Watson said that he would call a conference of the Republicans looking to approval of night sessions to speed the bill through the Senate when consideration is begun on the floor.

Senator Harrison, ranking minority member on the committee, pledged the cooperation of the Democrats in pushing the bill through the Senate with all possible speed. If night sessions were found necessary to get the bill through, the Democrats would agree, he said, but proposed the Senate meet at 11 o'clock in the morning and see what could be accomplished before resorting to night sessions.

How long the bill will remain in the Senate remains a matter of doubt. The greatest barrier to quick passage is to be found in the pending reports of several senators that embargo tariffs be included in the bill. Inclusion of tariffs in the bill have been approved and disapproved by the finance committee.

Tariffs' Defeat Expected.

Indications now are that tariffs will be kept out of the measure by the committee, but committee members on both sides are hopeful, rather than confident, their side will win the dispute.

One of the arguments which has been used to force inclusion of tariffs in the tax bill has been that the House, having put coal and oil tariffs in, should not refuse to include embargo tariffs striking them out. Both Democratic and Republican House leaders, however, have sent word to the Senate that elimination of tariffs will not cause the House to reject the tax bill.

Roosevelt Man Named
Connecticut Chairman

Hartford, Conn., May 3 (A.P.).—Connecticut's forces of Franklin D. Roosevelt won a victory today in the selection of William C. Fox, of New London, as chairman of the Democratic State convention May 16 and 17.

Fox, a former State senator, was chosen by an advisory committee of five members. Jouett Shouse, chairman of the party's national executive committee, was selected last month to make the keynote address.

SMITH AS CHAMPIONDemocratic State Convention
Rejects Roosevelt
Move by 172 to 23.

Providence, R. I., May 2 (A.P.).—Little Rhode Island's Democrats today stood by their 1928 champion, Alfred E. Smith.

Delegates to the party's State convention refused by a roll call vote of 172 to 23 to support Franklin D. Roosevelt and by a vote of 123 to 55 for Mr. Devillibus. Thomas E. Hume, the Second Ward incumbent, and A. C. Moon, present Councilman from the Third, were unopposed, and received a large vote for their reelection, although he was unopposed.

B. Mathias, who was unopposed, was reelected to the council from the Third Ward, receiving a complimentary vote of 183.

New Faces on Council.

Two of the present board of commissioners were reelected in Bladensburg, while three new faces appeared on the council. The five persons who were elected and their votes were: Elroy Gash, 178; W. R. Beattie, 156; Frank Mace, 146; Ellsworth Pool, 145, and Samuel Mostow, 143.

Mr. Mace and Mr. Mostow were members of the board last year, as were Mr. O. Brigham, 49 votes; Baxter D. Dutton, 48 votes; and John E. 139 votes, while Mrs. Lillian G. Morrison polled 118.

Four members of the Seat Pleasant town council were reelected last night, only one of last year's members being nosed out by the four candidates. Those elected and their votes were: George V. Armstrong, 176; Edwin M. Fisher, 110; Van Moreland, 106; C. A. Penkert, 103, and Robert E. Fisher, 103.

Mr. Penkert will take the place of the late Councilman Arthur S. Jones, who received 42 votes. John W. Hampton polled 55, while Carol C. Carter, 56, and George Embrey, 71.

Completion Tomorrow.

Both Senator Smoot and Senator Pat Harrison (Democrat), of Mississippi, at the end of the day estimated that the tax bill will be completed by the committee tomorrow. Senator James E. Watson (Republican), of Indiana, majority leader, also was optimistic.

Senator Watson said that he would call a conference of the Republicans looking to approval of night sessions to speed the bill through the Senate when consideration is begun on the floor.

Senator Harrison, ranking minority member on the committee, pledged the cooperation of the Democrats in pushing the bill through the Senate with all possible speed. If night sessions were found necessary to get the bill through, the Democrats would agree, he said, but proposed the Senate meet at 11 o'clock in the morning and see what could be accomplished before resorting to night sessions.

How long the bill will remain in the Senate remains a matter of doubt. The greatest barrier to quick passage is to be found in the pending reports of several senators that embargo tariffs be included in the bill. Inclusion of tariffs in the bill have been approved and disapproved by the finance committee.

Tariffs' Defeat Expected.

Indications now are that tariffs will be kept out of the measure by the committee, but committee members on both sides are hopeful, rather than confident, their side will win the dispute.

One of the arguments which has been used to force inclusion of tariffs in the tax bill has been that the House, having put coal and oil tariffs in, should not refuse to include embargo tariffs striking them out. Both Democratic and Republican House leaders, however, have sent word to the Senate that elimination of tariffs will not cause the House to reject the tax bill.

Roosevelt Man Named
Connecticut Chairman

Hartford, Conn., May 3 (A.P.).—Connecticut's forces of Franklin D. Roosevelt won a victory today in the selection of William C. Fox, of New London, as chairman of the Democratic State convention May 16 and 17.

Fox, a former State senator, was chosen by an advisory committee of five members. Jouett Shouse, chairman of the party's national executive committee, was selected last month to make the keynote address.

Rejects Roosevelt
Move by 172 to 23.

Providence, R. I., May 2 (A.P.).—Little Rhode Island's Democrats today stood by their 1928 champion, Alfred E. Smith.

Delegates to the party's State convention refused by a roll call vote of 172 to 23 to support Franklin D. Roosevelt and by a vote of 123 to 55 for Mr. Devillibus. Thomas E. Hume, the Second Ward incumbent, and A. C. Moon, present Councilman from the Third, were unopposed, and received a large vote for their reelection, although he was unopposed.

Curson Riverdale Mayor.

In Riverdale, former Councilman W. A. Carson, was chosen mayor by a vote nearly twice that of the combined vote of his opponents.

He was the choice of 180 persons, while Harry A. Barker, who polled 90 votes, was the choice of 70 for Reuben Gordon. E. R. Salmon was victor in the First Ward, with 42 to D. W. Thompson's 27. Mr. Thompson was running for reelection, as was H. R. Pugh, who was unopposed in the Second Ward.

A. R. Bowers, also a present Councilman, was reelected in the Fourth Ward, with 110 to 10. He received 53, while his opponent, William C. Wedding, polled 32. Harry C. Weeks, treasurer for four years and who was not opposed, received a vote of 256.

In Mount Rainier, Roger W. Moser was elected to the town council from the Second Ward with a vote of 106. His opponent, John T. Dwyer, polled 76 votes.

B. Mathias, who was unopposed, was reelected to the council from the Third Ward, receiving a complimentary vote of 183.

TWO MONTGOMERY
MAYORS UNSEATEDDavis, in Takoma Park, and Spates, Rockville, Are Swept From Office.

Town elections in Montgomery County yesterday stole the spotlight from the Republican primaries and resulted in two upsets for the administration forces.

Both Mayors Ben G. Davis, of Takoma Park, and J. Roger Spates, of Rockville, administration supporters, were swept from office in campaigns carried out by an anti-administration force of the county. The anti-administration leaders hereafter have left town politics alone but this year started vigorous campaigns with full tickets in the field to oppose regular administration officials.

Dr. Lewton, New Mayor.

Mayor Davis was supported by several leading citizens of the town, who pointed out that his close affiliation with county officials had resulted in many improvements for the town which otherwise would not have been possible.

In the Rockville election, Mayor Spates did not wage a very intensive campaign. His opponent, Douglas M. Standford, polled 193 votes to his 97. The full anti-administration ticket was elected as follows: Thomas M. Anderson, 208; Edgar Reed, 179; Charles E. Howell, 49; defeated E. D. Ward, 191; while the incumbents, who were defeated received the following votes: J. Paul Brunnett, 163; Joseph L. Claggett, 96; H. Worthington Talbot, 118.

Somerset also had a hot election battle. Mayor J. W. Stohlmann winning the election with a vote of 41 over Charles E. Howell, 49, defeated E. D. Ward, 191; while the incumbents, who were defeated received the following votes: J. Paul Brunnett, 163; Joseph L. Claggett, 96; H. Worthington Talbot, 118.

Mayor William McInnis was reelected without opposition with a complimentary vote of 133; Councilmen George W. Marshall and O. H. Glash and August Werner.

NEW SOUTH WALES TAX OFFICES REOPEN

Premier Lang Loses Fight on Defaulted Foreign Bonds in Australia.

Sydney, New South Wales, May 2 (A.P.).—The battle between Premier J. T. Lang of New South Wales, and the commonwealth of Australia, that threatened to stop the flow of taxes in the state, apparently came to an end today with a victory for the commonwealth.

At any rate, Premier Lang handed over the keys to the tax offices to commonwealth authorities a month after he had defied them to proceed with their policy of impounding revenue to cover the state's default in its foreign obligations.

The government was empowered to appropriate the taxes for allocation as it saw fit under the financial agreement act which was passed by the commonwealth Legislature and upheld by the high court in New South Wales, and increasing that of commonwealth.

An Exchange Telegraph dispatch today said the New South Wales had defaulted over the week-end in its foreign obligations amounting to about £88,000 (about $320,000) due in New York, and £800,000 (about $2,800,000) due in London.

The default brought total default obligations of the state government to some £3,000,000, the dispatch said, the commonwealth having remitted some necessary amounts over-its.

Like the discussion of a State's right to withdraw from the Union before the American Civil War, the conflict of state's rights and federal authority goes back almost to the conception of the federation, in Australia's case, 1901.

Premier Lang's scrap with the commonwealth brought the issue to an angry head and resulted in various threats and militant demonstrations on both sides.

Today's surrender indicates that the issue has been smoothed over, at least for the time being.

Prison Term Given Man For Defrauding State

Boise, Idaho, May 2 (A.P.).—Henry Gusman, Boise machinery dealer, convicted of defrauding the State by collecting for trucks and tractor parts that were never delivered to the highway department, was sentenced at Lewiston today to serve two and one-half years in prison and fined $5,000.

Gov. Ben C. Ross said investigation of deals involving several district offices of the highway department indicated the State had been swindled out of $250,000. Losses have been disclosed, Gov. Ross said, which ran back into the middle of the four-year administration of Gov. C. C. Moore, now United States Land Commissioner.

Auto Used by Il Duce Kills Peasant on Road

Rome, May 2 (A.P.).—Leandro Arpinati, Italian undersecretary of the interior, who drives the same racing car that Premier Mussolini uses, struck and killed a peasant on the Rome to Ostia auto strada late last night, it became known today. The peasant was walking on the thoroughfare, where pedestrian traffic is prohibited.

Signor Arpinati and his companion, Giuseppe Zanetti, president of the Italian Football Federation, were tossed out of their car. The undersecretary suffered a broken arm and Signor Zanetti's nose was broken.

Mrs. R. P. Lamont, Jr., Plays 'Sadie Thompson'

Denver, Colo., May 2 (A.P.).—Frances Kent Lamont, wife of Robert F. Lamont, Jr., made her professional debut here last night as the leading woman of a local stock company.

Mrs. Lamont, daughter-in-law of the Secretary of Commerce, had been appearing in amateur performances at the Denver University Civic Theater and was offered the place as leading lady of the Denham Theater Players. She appears in the role of Sadie Thompson in "Rain."

Bus Lines Ordered To Reduce Fares

Utilities Body Also Rules End of Alexandria Transfers.

The Public Utilities Commission yesterday ordered the transfer arrangement between the buses of the Alexandria - Barcroft - Washington Rapid Transit Co. and the Capital Traction Co. at Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue discontinued and further ordered this line and the Alexandria-Washington and the Arlington and Fairfax bus lines to charge the same rate of fare within the District as is charged by the street cars.

The Virginia bus companies are to be permitted one stop between the north end of Highway Bridge and their Washington terminals for the convenience of patrons who desire to go to the Washington tourist camp or to Potomac Park.

The order is based on evidence submitted at a public hearing on April 13. The transfer arrangement had been carried on by the Alexandria-Barcroft-Washington bus line since the discontinuance of the Mount Vernon, Alexandria & Washington Railway, although no order to this effect had ever been issued by the commission.

Osteopath Held in Death Of Girl Is Free on Bond

Oklahoma City, May 2 (A.P.).—Dr. J. W. Elmstinger, Oklahoma City osteopath, charged with the murder of Virginia Lee Wyckoff, University of Oklahoma coed, was released on $5,000 bond today at the conclusion of a habeas corpus hearing.

Miss Wyckoff was one of the seven young women whose deaths county authorities allege resulted from illegal operations.

MAY DAY FATALITY TOTAL IN SPAIN IS 7

Strong Guard Maintained in Seville After All-Day Rioting of Radicals.

Seville, Spain, May 2 (U.P.).—Soldiers and civil guards patrolled the streets of Seville tonight after a day of rioting and sporadic fighting among Communists, Syndicalists and police.

The disturbances raised the toll of casualties throughout Spain to seven dead and more than a score injured in disturbances on May Day and today.

Three persons were killed in the Province of Adajoz yesterday during a May Day disturbance, two died in the City of Cordoba, one in the Province of Burgos and one in the Province of Albacete.

Many persons were arrested in Seville when the civil government, after a conference with the minister of interior of Madrid, declared all Syndicalist societies outlawed and ordered them closed.

Disorders quickly spread throughout the city as the Communists and Syndicalists attempted to prolong the stoppage of labor declared on May Day. Several attempts were made to burn tram cars and a civilian and a soldier were wounded by gunfire when a truck carrying food supplies was attacked in the Feria quarter.

Gunmen fired from the rooftops on civil guards and police and there was intense shooting in the Trinity quarter, where four persons were seriously hurt. Later soldiers rode on all tram cars and reinforcements were sent to the centers of disturbance.

Gov. Rolph Will Return Bible Taken From Hotel

Sacramento, May 2 (A.P.).—A Richmond, Va., hotel is shy at least one Gideon Bible, which Gov. James Rolph, Jr., of California, found in his traveling bag today. He will return it.

Gov. Rolph returned from a convention of governors in Richmond and opened the bag in his office today. He lifted out three books and stared in astonishment at a black one with gold lettering and red edges.

"Goodness sake," he muttered, "I seem to have picked up a Gideon Bible somewhere."

Rolph grinned a bit, scratched his head and decided the Bible should be returned to the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond, with apologies.

World Religious Group Plans Conference Here

Biarciff, N. Y., May 2 (A.P.).—The First Century Christian Fellowship, world-wide religious group, will hold a house party in Washington, D. C., from May 13 to 20 to discuss the problems of Government, it was announced today.

The Rev. Frank N. D. Buchanan, founder of the fellowship, said Harvey S. Firestone, rubber manufacturer and close friend of Henry Ford, would be among the leaders.

MARCH OF JOBLESS GUARDED IN BOSTON

Delegation at State House Demands Radical Relief for Distressed.

Boston, May 2 (A.P.).—Approximately 500 unemployed demonstrators accompanied by several thousand sympathizers and curious Bostonians marched to the heavily guarded statehouse today.

Scores of Boston and State police and statehouse guards stood about the capital.

The marchers, who had come over the road from several sections of the State, held a mass meeting on Boston Common before a delegation of nine of their number was escorted into the statehouse and conferred with President Gaspar C. Bacon, of the State Senate. They asked that a special session of the Legislature be called to hear the complaints of the marchers.

They had prepared resolutions to be given Gov. Ely, asking unemployment insurance at the expense of the employers and State government, immediate relief at the rate of $15 a week, to be paid pending the passage of the insurance legislation, this money to be secured by reducing the salaries of all State officials to $3,000 a year; by transferring all funds now used for military and police purposes, and by suspending payment of State debts to bankers, etc.; a State construction program to include the tearing down of all slum dwellings and replacing them with decent homes, to be rented at low cost and entirely free to unemployed.

Now—a new service to our customers

In response to an increasing demand for refrigerators scientifically designed to increase the refrigerating value and the economy of ice, the American Ice Company has added an important extension of its service to its customers. A complete line of modern, well-insulated refrigerators, for both home and commercial use, in a large range of ice capacities, is now offered to the public. DO YOU INHALE?

Why is this vital question so much avoided by other cigarettes?

EVER since Lucky Strike created that special process for purifying fine tobacco and told the full facts about cigarette smoking—the industry has been in an uproar. For Lucky Strike has dared to mention things that were considered "taboo" in the cigarette trade.

You may have noticed a striking avoidance generally of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it gives you the protection you want...because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

METHODISTS VOTE SHORTER CONCLAVE

Rules of Procedure Changed to Effect Both Economy and Dispatch.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 2 (A.P.)—With the avowed intention of "finding an answer to give to the world" for its spiritual and temporal troubles, the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church opened its quadrennial convention today.

Rules of conference procedure were changed with the view to effecting both economy and dispatch. The Episcopal power to appoint the committee on judiciary, one of the most important in the church, was sustained by vote.

The attempt to have the committee designated by local conference action was unsuccessful and delegates were inclined to regard the decision as a vote of confidence in the bishops as well as a step toward speeding up the deliberations of the conference.

Shorter Session Forecast.

Both this vote and the procedure changes, denomination leaders hope, will expedite business and effect economy by shortening the conference from the month originally planned to three weeks.

The initial session was devoted entirely to organization and setting up of the conference machinery. It was followed by a series of committee meetings to prepare for deliberations on the number of memorials already filed with the conference for action and legislation.

The Rev. Dr. John M. Arters, of Bangor, Me., was elected unanimously to the important position of general secretary. Dr. Arters, who was first elected to the post four years ago to succeed Raymond J. Wade when he was elevated to the bishopric, had been an assistant secretary since 1918.

Washingtonian Named.

Dr. Arters named fifteen assistant secretaries, including the Rev. Harry W. Burgen, Washington, D. C.; the Rev. Stanley E. Granum, Cleveland; the Rev. Edgar B. Heckman, Carlisle, Pa.; the Rev. Dr. Adams J. Loeppert, Chicago; Robert C. S. Smith, Portland, Me.; the Rev. Asa J. Kestle, Cincinnati; the Rev. Dr. Frank T. Wender, Covington, Ky.; Miss S. Irene Gordon, Helena, Mont.; and John R. Wootton, Fremont, Mich.

Thirty-six bishops participated in the service which preceded the opening session. The 860 delegates from the United States and 40 foreign nations assisted at the opening communion service.

Only two of the bishops were absent. Bishop W. P. Oldham, of Columbus, Ohio, was kept away by illness, and the infirmities of age prevented Bishop Earl Cranston, a Civil War veteran of New Richmond, Ohio, from attending.

Foreign Bishops Report.

The first of a series of episcopal reports was presented at the night session, when bishops from four foreign fields described the quadrennial activities of Methodism in their areas. These bishops were Chin Ping Wang, of Poochow, China; George Miller, of Buenos Aires; J. C. Baker, of Korea and Japan; and John Gowdy, also of Poochow.

All four bishops told the conference that economic conditions and world-wide unrest have seriously hampered missionary activities, but stressed the encouraging fact that temporal adversity had been responsible for large spiritual gains.

Bishop Baker reported the establishment of the Central Conference of the Korean Methodist Church, the newest member of the conference family.

Both Chinese bishops stated that the perennial civil war in their episcopates had impeded the spread of the church and that their schools were suffering under severe governmental restriction.

JAPAN SEEKS TO BAR AIRCRAFT CARRIERS

ously pressed the point until the present communication to one of the technical departments of the conference.

The communication branded the carrying of airplanes on warships as the maintenance of most aggressive weapons, which are terribly efficacious against the defense weapons of any nation and extremely threatening to civilian populations.

The Japanese asserted that the purpose of carriers is to transport planes over long distances in order to attack enemy soil rather than to defend their own territory.

"The effect of bombarding the enemy coast with gunfire is insignificant compared to the terrible effect of airplanes carried by ship," the communication said.

Bridge Expert to Tell Press Club How to Play

As a preliminary feature of the National Press Club bridge tournament which is to be held on May 19, 20 and 21, Mrs. Nancy Munce, contract bridge specialist, will deliver an instruction lecture tomorrow evening in the club auditorium. Mrs. Munce will discuss the methods and movement of duplicate and tournament playing, as well as bidding.

The lecture will be free to members of the club and their invited women friends. On the three nights of the tournament women may dine in main dining room of the club.

DARN THOSE SOCKS

That's exactly what they need. You look at them and wonder what to do about it. You have been too busy with a hundred and one things and couldn't get to it. If only some one could relieve you of the job!

There are many fine women who would be glad to do that job for you on a reasonable basis. They need work to help support some person dependent upon them. Some are widows. Some have husbands out of work. Some are single women who always supported themselves and want to continue to do so. They don't want charity. They are eager to work.

Why not have one of these worthy women do that darned—perhaps some mending—for you? It will make you happy and bring a bit of sunshine in the life of a woman eager to make herself useful and remain self-supporting.

SPLITTING OF ATOMS DISCOUNTED IN U.S.

Chicago Scientists Believe Reports From London Were Incorrect.

Chicago, May 2 (A.P.)—Chicago scientists today expressed the belief that reports from London were incorrect in stating two scientists there had split atoms of hydrogen producing atoms of helium.

Prof. A. J. Dempster, of the University of Chicago, worked with one of the London scientists, Dr. J. D. Cockcroft, two years ago. He said today that what probably occurred was that some lighter element was bombarded with atomic hydrogen and helium was thus produced. He described it as a "very interesting report," but said it appeared to him the published accounts were incorrect.

Dr. W. S. Rutherford, assistant professor of physics at Northwestern University, said "They might have broken up molecular hydrogen into atomic hydrogen, which in turn might have formed some helium. But there can be no scientific veracity in the statement that an atom of hydrogen will split into an atom of helium."

(Associated Press.)

Henry D. Hubbard, physicist at the Bureau of Standards, said yesterday the announcement that two London scientists had split the atom might mean they have reproduced upon a small scale the action that gives the sun energy.

"If Lord Rutherford's associates have produced helium from hydrogen, as seems to be hinted at, with a release of energy of the magnitude reported, they have produced a reaction which is explained as the only adequate source of the energy of the sun," he said.

"The statement that Rutherford has announced a breakdown of the atom is too incomplete, to judge fully of its novelty and importance. If the statement merely announces the breakdown of the nucleus of an atom, this is not news."

OTIS SMITH UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT

Senate the power to make its own rules, and it is not the function of the court to say that another rule would be better. A rule designed to insure due deliberation in the performance of the vital functions of advising and consenting to nominations for public office, moreover, should receive from the court the most sympathetic consideration."

In a voluminous review of the questions at issue, however, the court reached the conclusion that the President, having received notice of the confirmation of the nomination, had acted within his authority in making the appointment and that Chairman Smith, having been duly commissioned, the matter had passed beyond the control of the Senate.

George Wharton Pepper, former Pennsylvania senator, carried on the legal battle for Smith.

Consentious Objectors' Bill Blocked in Senate

(Associated Press.)

An unfavorable report on the bill of Senator Cutting (Republican), New Mexico, to permit naturalization of alien conscientious objectors was made to the Senate immigration committee yesterday by a subcommittee. The committee postponed action.

Senator Reed (Republican), Pennsylvania, the chairman, and Senator Patterson (Republican), Missouri, and Senator Coolidge (Democrat), Massachusetts, signed the subcommittee report which held the question of alien objectors was different from native-born objectors.

IN the scientific laboratories of the world a man who hoards atoms is known as an atom miser.

Up to this time there was a reason for this practice, since the atom was the last bit of nature that had not been conquered by science, and the scientists were bent on smashing it. So they saved all the atoms they could find and went to work.

Now, according to Lord Rutherford, one of the world's foremost scientists, broadcasting from London, two young Cambridge physicists have achieved the greatest goal of all scientific research.

What have they done? They have split an atom.

No matter that it took two men to do it, the atom has been split.

To the ordinary lay mind, not fully comprehending the nature of the atom—the smallest particle of an element that can exist—this may seem like just so much poppycock.

Well, it is not poppycock. Atomism, in philosophy, is the doctrine that the universe is composed of simple, minute, indivisible particles, or atoms.

Victim in Berlin Thought to Be Lucille Chalfont, Once U. S. Star.

Berlin, May 2 (A.P.)—A woman found dead, apparently of poison, in a Berlin rooming house last Friday was tentatively identified by police today as Lucille Chalfont, an American, who also was known as Annie Lind.

It was learned that the woman had been at the rooming house for a month and apparently was at the end of her resources. She had burned a number of papers in a stove, thus adding to the difficulty of identification.

New York, May 2 (A.P.)—Lucille Chalfont, who was found dead Friday in a Berlin rooming house, was identified here as a descendant of Jenny Lind, a native of Pueblo, Colo. She was famed as a singer after she made her debut with Kolb and Dill in "The High Cost of Living."

She had the lead singing role in 1922 in the "Greenwich Village Follies," gave several concert recitals and in 1926 received an ovation in Paris as Golda in "Rigoletto."

DEGRADED HAWAII SPEAKS

Word comes from Honolulu that the most fiendish of all men, those who assault womanhood, those who destroy the purity and sanctity of the home, are to have control of our Islands in the Pacific. For that is what the verdict against the Fortescue-Massie family and their loyal friends means.

Forty women have been attacked in Honolulu during the past year. Convictions have been negligible and thus added encouragement is given to those whose degraded souls permit them to carry on this fiendish practice.

Justice? Yes, there was justice for the fiend who assaulted an American girl, but no justice for decency and purity and the sanctity of the home.

Gangsters and racketeers dominate most of our cities in America and violators of pure women seem now to dominate in Hawaii.

When will all this be stopped? Will Washington close its eyes to this outrage, as it has to so many of our bad laws, or will we now give control of the Islands to a Naval Commission, as should be done? For the security of our country and for the security of what is dearest to our homes and our womanhood, Congress must act at once.

JAPANESE IS SLAIN BY CHINESE SNIPERS

Conferees Expected to Sign Truce Agreement Today in Shanghai.

Shanghai, May 2 (A.P.)—Almost on the eve of a final Sino-Japanese armistice in the Shanghai area the Japanese authorities today reported Chinese snipers had slain one of their Chaplains and captured another.

Four hundred blue-jackets were sent ashore to search the native quarters for the missing clergyman. The body of his comrade was found when relief arrived to take over the post.

Chinese authorities announced today that the armistice conference will be resumed at 10 a. m. tomorrow, when it was expected that the conferees would initial an agreement formally ending the conflict.

The peace terms were not made known, but it was understood the Japanese would agree to withdraw toward the International Settlement, and the Chinese would remain where they were in a wide circle about the city.

Meanwhile, Japanese authorities were still rounding up members of the Korean colony here in their investigation of last week's bombing, when Japan's five highest officials in China were wounded, one fatally.

The other four were reported progressing favorably toward recovery. Kawabata, president of the Japanese Residents Association here, succumbed to his wounds.

Mrs. C. H. Sabin's Son Is Sued for Divorce

Reno, Nev., May 2 (A.P.)—Mrs. Elizabeth Shelvin Smith, New York society matron and daughter of the late Thomas Shelvin, who was a famous football player at Yale, charged extreme cruelty in filing suit here today to divorce Paul Morton Smith.

Mr. Smith is the son of Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, prominent anti-prohibitionist, by a former marriage to J. Hopkins Smith, Jr.

Mr. Smith and Miss Shelvin eloped and were married at Greenwich, Conn., April 18, 1928. They have two children—Shirley, 2, and Paul, Jr., aged 5 months.

The court was asked to approve an agreement settling the divorce and custody of the children. Details of the agreement were not revealed.

Coolidge Catches Dozen Large Trout.

Hartford, Conn., May 2 (A.P.)—Former President Calvin Coolidge today caught a dozen trout of more than a pound each, as well as several too small to keep, on his second trip this year to the private stream of former Senator George P. McLean, in Simsbury.

MANCHURIA FIGHTS CLAIM HEAVY TOLL

Japanese Kill Many Rebels in Tungliao; Three Other Spots Also Involved.

Tokyo, May 2 (A.P.)—A new trouble spot appeared in Manchuria over the week-end, as various press dispatches told of fighting in Fengtien, the southernmost province, and next-door neighbor to Mongolia.

Japanese military reports said their troops clashed with rebels at Tungliao (Fengtien), a railway junction point about 100 miles west of Changchun, the Manchukuo capital, killing several hundred rebels. Japanese losses were placed at six dead and sixteen wounded.

Previous Renco (Japanese) News Agency dispatches said a force of 9,000 rebels was operating along the border west of Tungliao, and had been opposed by Mongolian troops loyal to the Manchukuo government.

Meanwhile, difficulties flared anew in three spots in eastern Kirin province, the province which borders on both Korea and Soviet Russia.

A Mukden dispatch from a Japanese correspondent said a force of Chinese irregulars had occupied the railway junction point—Tungliao—about 80 miles west of Kirin, and had killed eight Japanese residents.

Gen. Jiro Tamon's division was reported en route as fast as possible to relieve the situation at Tungliao, after a short rest period at Linoyang.

The area to the north and east around Harbin was also giving trouble. The Japanese claimed victory over 2,000 Chinese irregulars near Wukimbo, after two bridges had been burned out on the Chinese Eastern Railway by the rebels.

Further north Gen. Nakamura's Japanese "Armada," which has been traveling down the Sungari River on boats, reached Fanchung on route to the Wukimbo trouble spot and clashed with rebels there. The outcome of the engagement was not immediately apparent.

Ile de France Carries Girl, 17, as Stowaway

New York, May 2 (A.P.)—The liner Ile de France, which arrived recently with a bogus Russian grand duke as a stowaway, was on its return voyage to France today, this time with a woman stowaway on board.

The French Line offices received a wireless from the ship saying that 17-year-old Ada de Smit had been discovered on board. The message came as the girl's father, an unemployed diamond cutter, was in the line's offices inquiring if any word had been received of his daughter, whom he had not seen since she went to see a friend off on the liner Saturday.

RADIANT HEAT SAVES MONEY

Petro-Nokol users commonly heat their homes for as much as one-third less than formerly. It's the radiant flame that saves you money. For penetrating, radiant heat is the ideal form of heat. The same intense heat you feel from the summer sun. Just pure heat rays. No smoke. No odor. No sound.

Your own boiler was designed to take advantage of radiant heat. Nearly 50% of all the heat your boiler absorbs should be radiant heat energy just from the brilliant, luminous flame itself. That's why Petro-Nokol's radiant flame saves on oil. This is in addition to the normal heat energy absorbed from the hot gases of the flame "scrubbing" all the interior surface of your boiler. And with this radiant flame right at the grate level, where it belongs... it cuts fuel costs even lower.

PETRO-NOKOL OIL BURNERS completely installed with tank are at the lowest prices in history

PULITZER PRIZE WON
BY MUSICAL SHOW

"Of Thee I Sing" Collects in Play Class; "The Good Earth" Held Best Novel.

New York, May 2 (A.P.).—The catchy tunes and unbridled satire of national politics of "Of Thee I Sing" made it the first musical comedy ever to win the Pulitzer Prize for the best original American play of the year.

In the field of journalism, the much cherished $500 gold medal for the most distinguished and meritorious public service by an American newspaper during the year was given to the Indianapolis News. Walter Duranty of the New York Times and Charles C. Ross, of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, were given the $500 prize for the best example of correspondence during the year.

These prizes were among fourteen in the fields of letters, journalism, music and art announced today by the trustees of Columbia University. They have a total value of $17,000.

Play Award "Unusual"

Frankly terming the play award "unusual," the advisory board gave the $1,000 which accompanied it to George S. Kaufman and Morrie Ryskind, of New York, who wrote the book. Ira Gershwin, the composer, who wrote the lyrics, shared in the prize, which was based on the book.

The Indianapolis News' award was for its successful campaign to eliminate waste in city management and to reduce the tax levy. Duranty's award was based on his series of dispatches on Russia, especially on the working out of the five-year plan in 1931, and Ross' was based on his discussion of the economic situation of the United States in his article, "The Country's Plight—What Can Be Done About It?" published November 29, 1931.

Ross has been chief of the Washington bureau of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch since 1918. He is the second member of that paper's Washington bureau to win a Pulitzer prize. Paul Y. Anderson having been honored previously.

A graduate of the University of Missouri in 1905, Ross returned to that institution in 1908 as a member of the faculty in the journalism school. He remained there until 1918 with the exception of one year, 1916-1917, when he was employed in Melbourne, Australia, as a sub-editor on the Melbourne Herald.

Gridiron Club Officer

Besides the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Ross has served on the editorial staff of the (Missouri) Herald, the Victor (Colorado) Record and the old St. Louis Republic.

Since assuming his post as chief of the Post-Dispatch staff, he has directed national political conventions in 1920, 1924 and 1928. He also reported the London naval conference in 1930.

Now is a vice president of the Gridiron Club, nationally known newspaper organization, and a former member of the standing committee of congressional correspondents. He was born in Independence, Mo., in 1885, and is married and has two children.

John T. McCutcheon, of the Chicago Tribune, won the $500 award for the best cartoon published by an American newspaper during the year. The cartoon, "A Wise Economist Asks a Question" was printed August 19, 1931.

Pershing Wins Prize

No winners were announced for two other annual journalism awards. The prize for the best work by a reporter was deferred, and none was awarded for the best newspaper editorial.

Gen. John B. Pershing's book, "My Experiences in the World War," won for the commander in chief of the American Expeditionary Force in France the highest single award of the fourteen. He was given the $2,000 prize for the best book of the year upon the history of the United States.

Pearl S. Buck's novel, "The Good Earth," which has been a best seller for months, won for her the $1,000 prize for best novel published by an American author. Mrs. Buck, now in Nanking, China, where her husband is a professor in the University of Nanking, based her book on life among the Chinese masses. She told of the effect of war and famine in a manner, the board said, that "gives an undistorted picture of the life described."

Best American Biography. Henry P. Fring, a former New York newspaperman who now writes biographical material for magazines, won the $1,000 award for the best American biography teaching patriotic and unselfish service to the people. His book, "Theodore Roosevelt," the board said, "presents a vitalized portrait of an outstanding American."

"The Flowering Stone," by George Dillon, won the $1,000 prize for the best volume of verse published during the year by an American author. The board said Dillon's "verse seemed most original and authentic" and added that "some of his poems are 'exceedingly beautiful.'"

Ernest Bacon, of San Francisco, was awarded the annual $1,800 scholarship to the American music academy. He is a pianist and composer, and his studies under direction of European instructors.

Wins Art Scholarship

Francesco Roggeri, of New York, received the annual $1,800 scholarship to the American art student regarded as most promising and deserving. He is a painter and sculptor.

Three $1,000 awards were given to Frank R. Kelley, of Brooklyn; Selma Nautzik, of New York; and Jonathan D. Springer, of Port Chester. They passed the examination in the Columbia School of Journalism with highest honors. Alternates are Michael J. Caplan, of New York; Betty Bellantini, of Berkeley, Calif.; and William Harrison, of Brooklyn.

Kaufman, co-writer of the play award, is a native of Pittsburgh who has won a place high in the list of Broadway directors. He has collaborated with others in the writing of numerous "hits," possibly more than any other of Broadway's famed persons. Among the productions, all of which are filled with satire, in which he has had a hand are "Merton of the Movies," "Beggars on Horseback," "Royal Family," and "June Moon," and "Once in a Lifetime." He has directed all of them and is regarded as one of Broadway's finest technicians. He now is at work on a book with Edna Ferber, who aided him in writing "Royal Family." He formerly worked extensively with Mark Connolly, whose "Green Pastures" won last year's Pulitzer award.

FAILURE PREDICTED
FOR BUDGET TASK

Contractors' Meeting Told U. S. Problem Is Business Increase.

Saying that Government effort to balance the budget will fail, Paul Mazur, New York investment broker, told the Associated General Contractors of America, which met last night at the Washington Hotel, that tax rates can not be jumped to keep pace with the decline in taxable revenues. He said the problem of the Government is to increase the volume of the Nation's business.

He urged that this be done by the realization that credit must be turned as a stimulus to demand and by the Federal Government lending its credit for an adequate program of public works construction.

Mazur declared that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the Glass-Steagall legislation and the policy of the Federal Reserve in the so-called open market operations will have no influence toward business recovery unless banks loan money to individual businesses, which they are disinclined to do.

The way to increase is through stimulation of business and not through currency alone, Mazur stated, and the development that is to be most useful must launch new activities such as public works projects.

Other speakers at the banquet session last night were Dr. Elwood Mead, commissioner of the United States Bureau of Reclamation; E. C. Kemper, of the American Institute of Architects; and Henry J. Kaiser, president of the contractors, who exhibited pictures of construction operations at Hoover Dam, of which he is one of the builders.

James Casey Rites Set for Tomorrow

Former Policeman's Burial Will Be Conducted in Arlington Cemetery.

Funeral services for James W. Casey, former Washington policeman, who was found dead last Saturday near Marlboro, Md., will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, at the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Episcopal Church, Ninth street and Massachusetts avenue northwest. Interment will be in Arlington National Cemetery.

Mr. Casey had been a member of the Metropolitan Police Department for some time. He served many years in the old Eighth Precinct, and later was transferred to the Fourth Precinct. During the World War Mr. Casey was active overseas as a captain in the Infantry. He took part in many of the major engagements and was wounded in action.

Surviving him is his widow, Mrs. Leila A. Casey.

The news and editorial departments were mobilized for a period of approximately 18 months and exhaustive studies were made throughout the State. As a result of carefully coordinated effort, the board said, "presents a vitalized portrait of an outstanding American."

COUNTRIES OFF GOLD
SEND MOST IMPORTS
DR. TINDALL'S RITES
WILL BE HELD TODAY

Finland Is Only One of 12 in List to Show Increases in Exports to U. S.

Data sent to the Senate yesterday by the Tariff Commission without interpretation showed almost half of America's imports come from countries which have gone off the gold standard.

The commission's report was in response to a resolution sponsored by Senator Reed (Republican), Pennsylvania, asking that the effects of depreciated currencies on imports be shown.

A report also was asked on ad valorem tariff equivalents before other countries cheapened their money as compared with the present, but the commission said in a letter that these figures are not yet available. They will be submitted soon.

The tables showed that, although the value of imports from all countries declined sharply during the comparative periods, the quantity of many commodities from the depreciated currency nations increased. Prices fell in some instances as much as 50 per cent.

Among these were cattle, pickled and cured veal, sulphate unbleached wood pulp, and sulphate wood pulp, bleached and unbleached; copper concentrates from all sources and refined copper from Canada, and flaxseed.

The comparative periods were from October, 1930, to February, 1931, and October, 1931, to February, 1932. The total monthly average imports from all countries between October, 1930, and February, 1931, was $203,591,000, and $200,000,000 of this came from countries now off the gold standard.

Between October, 1931, and February, 1932, the twelve major producing nations with depreciated currency accounted for approximately $60,000,000 of America's aggregate monthly average imports of $147,000,000.

The total of imports from all countries fell from the $266,813,000 monthly average of January through September, 1930, to $179,850,000 for the corresponding period in 1931.

Finland Only Exception. Finland was the only one of the twelve countries with depreciated currencies showing an increase in the aggregate total of exports to the United States in the October, 1931-February, 1932, period over the October, 1930-February, 1931, period, the respective figures being $857,000 and $735,000.

The comparative totals for the same periods in the eleven others follow:

United Kingdom	$8,546,000
Spain	$1,152,000
Sweden	$3,679,000
Norway	$931,000
Denmark	$123,000
Canada	$253,000
Mexico	$2,977,000
Brazil	$8,461,000
Argentina	$2,216,000
Venezuela	$1,388,000
Japan	$13,436,000
Italy	$17,985,000

Thomas A. Smith Last Rites Today

Former Maryland Member of House Died in Newark, Del.

Funeral services for Thomas Alexander Smith, 82, former Maryland representative of the First Maryland Congressional District, who died Saturday following a brief illness from heart disease, will be held at the Methodist Episcopal Church of Ridgeley, Md., at 1 p. m. today. The Rev. R. L. Tawes will officiate. Services at the grave will be in charge of the Knights Templar, of which he was a long member.

Mr. Smith died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George E. Dutton, wife of the dean of the University of Delaware, Newark, Del. He is survived by his widow, the former Adah C. Fraser, of Plymouth, Mich.; four daughters, one son, and four grandchildren.

He became chairman of the Democratic State Central committee of Maryland in his early career and was elected State Senator from Caroline County in 1894. He was elected as a Democrat to the Fifty-ninth Congress, 1905.

Rites for Uriburu Held In Paris; Edge Attends

Paris, May 2 (A.P.).—United States Ambassador Edge and other high dignitaries of the Diplomatic Corps attended funeral services today for Jose Uriburu, former provisional President of Argentina, who died after an operation last week.

Flowers from officials all over the world, including a wreath from President von Hindenburg of Germany, were banded about the bier in the church of St. Pierre Chaligny. The body will be sent to Argentina for burial.

Tribute to Be Paid To Amy C. Leavitt

Friends of the late Miss Amy C. Leavitt, who was a volunteer worker at the Neighborhood House for 29 years, will pay tribute to her at a gathering at the settlement Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Miss Leavitt died February 4.

At the memorial gathering tributes will be paid by Mrs. Wilbur J. Carr, Mrs. Benjamin H. Smart, James E. Kinsella, Mrs. William Lee Corbin, P. S. Neigh, Miss Pearl Waugh, Miss Elizabeth Vattale, Alan Davis and Mrs. Neigh.

A special room will be dedicated to her memory at the settlement and will be known as the Amy C. Leavitt room.

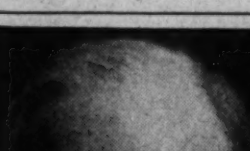

on an estimate, reached by listening for the sound waves from an explosion to go to the bottom of the ice in the Arctic and then come back to the surface again. It is estimated Greenland is sheeted by a coat of ice one mile thick. If this estimate holds good for the Antarctic, as well, the two regions would yield 4,000,000 cubic miles of water.

If the temperature of the earth rose a few degrees, this ice would start melting, and the ocean would rise more than 100 feet.

On the other hand, it would take only a drop of a few degrees in the earth's temperature to bring on another glacial period, when ice would cover the earth as far as the tropical zone.

But skating enthusiasts needn't take cheer, because the earth is gradually getting warmer, and the next ice age will not be for a long time. The glacier melting period is still at least a few millions of years in the future.

BURIAL TOMORROW FOR G. N. BROWN, 73

Former Chief Examiner of I. C. C. Was Native of Huntington, Mass.

Funeral rites for George Newland Brown, 73 years old, former chief examiner of the Interstate Commerce Commission, who died suddenly at his home Sunday, will be held at All Souls' Unitarian Church, Sixteenth and Harvard streets, at noon tomorrow. Burial will be in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Mr. Brown was born in Huntington, Mass., in 1859. He came to Washington in 1884, a secretary to Representative Frank W. Mondell, of Wyoming. In 1897 he received a law degree from National University and in 1901 entered the Government service as an attorney in the Department of the Interior.

In 1906 he was appointed to the Interstate Commerce Commission, where he served until his retirement in 1922. He then entered private practice, from which he retired in 1929.

He made his home at 5303 Forty-first street. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma L. Brown; two sons, Andrew H. Brown, of Cleveland, and Francis W. Brown, of Washington. He was a member of several Masonic bodies, including Almas Shrine Temple.

Mrs. E. M. Calvert Buried in Capital

Noted Genealogist Was 72 and Widow of Mac-Alpine Man.

Mrs. Eleanor Mackubin Calvert, noted Washington genealogist, was buried yesterday in Rock Creek Cemetery after funeral services at her home in the Stoneleigh Courts Apartments.

Mrs. Calvert, who was 72 years old, was the widow of Charles Baltimore Calvert, of MacAlpine, Prince Georges County, Md. She was the daughter of Dr. Richard Cragh Mackubin, of Strawberry Hill, near Annapolis. Since the death of her husband in 1906 she had lived in Washington. She was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Colonial Dames of America, the Daughters of the Confederacy, the Magna Charta Dames and the Maryland Society of Washington.

Her survivors include 7 children, 21 grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren. Her sons and daughters are: Mrs. Henry Walter Lilly, of Fayetteville, N. C.; Mrs. Thomas Humphreys Spence, of College Park, Md.; Richard C. M. Calvert, of Oxford, N. C.; George H. Calvert, Jr., of Baltimore; and Mrs. George Calvert, of Washington, and Mrs. W. D. Nelson Thomas, of Baltimore.

Rites for Mrs. Palmer.

Widow of Army Captain Will Be Buried This Afternoon.

The remains of Mrs. Sallie Palmer, 82 years old, who died Sunday, will be buried this afternoon in Arlington Cemetery, following services at 1:30 o'clock at 1804 M street northwest.

Mrs. Palmer was the daughter of Charles and Anna Hughes, of Atlanta, Ga. She came to Washington shortly after the Civil War and was married to Capt. James H. Palmer. She is survived by a daughter, Miss Lillian A. Palmer. Services will be conducted by the Rev. George W. Atkinson, of St. James Episcopal Church.

LIBERAL COALITION
LIKELY FOR FRANCE

Herriot Is Seen as Chief of Radical Socialists; Run-off Set for Sunday.

Paris, May 2 (A.P.).—A liberal coalition government headed by the veteran statesman of the left, Edouard Herriot, tonight became a possibility for France on the face of Radical Socialist victories in Sunday's election.

The issue will not be decided until next Sunday, however, for less than one-third of the 615 seats of the Chamber of Deputies were filled on the first ballot; a second vote will be necessary on 361 seats, where no one candidate got a clear majority. Four colonial seats will not be filled until later in the year. A plurality will elect next Sunday.

The Radical Socialists emerged from the preliminary test with 63 seats, the biggest solid bloc elected so far, while the left Republicans of Andre Tardieu, the present premier, lost heavily, placing only 37 candidates in the victory column.

Unemployment in Cities. M. Herriot was on the way to Paris tonight from Lyons to lead the campaign which is expected by his Radical Socialist to emphasize in next Sunday's run-off election the movement to the left manifested in yesterday's preliminary balloting.

Influential newspapers like Le Temps and L'Information admitted yesterday's swing toward the Radical Socialist Left, but Le Temps predicted that this movement had not come to the extreme of Socialism or Communism. The strong position obtained by the Radical Socialists in the larger cities was generally attributed to unemployment among the working class.

Little change in the French foreign policy would be made by N. Herriot. Far from resting on their oars, the Radical Socialists immediately began a campaign to consolidate their victories, and bargained for withdrawals of weaker candidates in their favor for the run-off.

Conservative Maneuvers. The conservatives started similar maneuvers, determined not to give up before the battle actually was lost. The election came to a final conclusion in 248 districts of the nation, according to a tabulation of the ministry of the interior, which distributed the seats as follows:

Conservatives	8
Republican Democrats	44
Independent Republicans	13
Popular Democrats	10
Left Republicans	37
Independent Radicals	25
Radical Socialists	63
Independent Socialists	4
Republican Socialists	5
Socialists	40
Communist Socialists	3
Communists	1
Total	248

Radical Socialists of the Seine department, embracing Paris, decided to clicker with the Socialists and Republican Socialists with a view to mutual withdrawing of candidates in next Sunday's election in favor of whichever of the three parties obtained the greatest number of votes yesterday.

Splendid Food served just right

QUIET, AIRY ROOMS deep-springed beds

A HOTEL has got to go some to please me. I'd rather not eat than struggle through a poor meal. And the slightest noise wakes me at night.

"So when I keep going back to the New Yorker, it means something. It means that their cooking is in a class by itself—seasoned and served perfectly. I mean, too, that their rooms pass the pin-dropping test—100% quiet. I'd be willing to pay high for these two comforts alone, but you don't have to at the New Yorker. You can get a luxurious outside room—a grand bed, both tub and shower bath, servitor, even a radio—for as little as $3.50 a day."

How to Be Beautiful

By ELSIE PIERCE

What Are Your Thoughts Etching On Your Face?

DURING Lent a service was announced on the subject "What Do You Think About When You Are Alone?" I was sufficiently intrigued to go there that talk because I knew that it would deal with the influence of mind upon matter. It covered the influence of the mind upon all phases of life—environment, health, ambitions, and emotions. But the basic theme was—you.

Thoughts you think when you are alone which make you what you are. Truly, your thoughts and your emotions leave their traces on your faces just as surely as if you engraved them upon a wax tablet with a fine-pointed instrument. Nerves, muscle and skin rebound to normal and recuperate from an occasional outburst of temper, or mood of depression and despondency, or from occasional day of peevishness, but disreputable emotions, freely indulged, will leave their decided, disfiguring marks. Fine lines of impatience, drooping, sagging lines of sadness and the peevish lines of a nagging disposition.

And just as rarely will the pleasant and the nobler emotions leave their lines of beauty. There are wrinkles which even add beauty, and lines which express kindness, humor, steadfastness, patience and tolerance. They will need no cream, astringents, or massage. You will not want to erase them. They express the personality of a picture which your friends find charming. As you are the artist who makes these lines, study your face and see which you want to remove and which you want to keep.

Tomorrow—The Treatment for ugly lines.

Elsie Pierce, famous beauty lecturer, will answer any questions on beauty you wish to ask her. Address Miss Pierce, in care of The Washington Post, Inc., a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Advice on Gardening

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

I HAVE a new garden where the soil is fertile and which has one sunny place where I mean to establish a garden. I realize that I can not expect much from perennials the first year. What annuals, that could be started at this time, would make a showing this summer?

MRS. CONRAD S. Y.
Common (more than four feet high); cornflower, larkspur, scabiosa, scabiosa, strawflower and zinnia (all attain a height of about 30 inches); calliopsis, platycodon, galliardia, bismarck, china aster, salpiglossa, snapdragon, and snow-on-the-mountain (all attain a height of 24 inches); mignonette and stock (both attain a height of 18 inches); calendula, California poppy, candytuft, French marigold, petunia, Drummond phlox, pink Iceland poppy, dianthus, and height of 12 inches), and under this height we have ageratum, lobelia, portulaca, sweet alyssum and verbenas. Any or all of these will bloom most beautifully if kept well watered.

My summer home is near the ocean. I have plenty of sunshine and not very fertile soil in my garden. Each year I add plenty of fertilizer and get some results. Can you give me a list of five annuals that would do well in such a location? ELLA G. A.

Four o'clock calliopsis, snow-on-the-mountain, stocks, dianthus, petunias, sweet alyssum, calendula and California poppies all do well in salt air.

Are there any plants of which I can sow the seed in late May and have flowers this summer? I mean to sow the seed in permanent beds and later when the seedlings have attained a certain height thin them out.

MRS. CHARLES F. W.
Ageratum, lobelia, mignonette, dianthus, portulaca, pink Iceland poppy, and stock may be sown in this way. Of course, you will not have early flowers.

Please tell me where to plant two cactaceae. I have a choice of locations.

PROBY S.
Cactaceae are lovers of sun and wind and demand full exposure to the elements. A well drained situation and a loamy soil are the essentials.

Edward F. C.—There is an effective control for the honeydew-loving species of ants which cover the peony buds and other flowers in our gardens. These insects harbor and distribute aphids, scale insects and many bugs on peony buds and on the roots of aster and snapdragon plants and also on the new growth of roses. If you care to write again and will inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope I shall be glad to send you the name of a proprietary preparation which, if used as directed on the container, will soon rid your garden of ants.

Is Bordeaux mixture a fungicide? Can you use it on cedar trees?

HENRY MCC.
Bordeaux mixture is a combination of copper sulphate and lime. It is a standard fungicide which may, when necessary, be used in combination with insecticides. It is the proper remedy to use for cedar rust.

NATS HAMME GOMEZ IN 10-3 ROUT OF YANKEES

Criss Morning with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

THE action of the House of Representatives yesterday in unanimously adopting a resolution favoring the Army-Navy football game in Washington next fall paved the way for some energetic procedure by those persons charged with the success of the Bicentennial sports program for the District.

The staging of an Army-Navy game here would make a success of the entire Bicentennial sports committee's plans in addition to providing the capital with the feature football attraction of the year and appealing in a grand manner the football-hungry fans of Washington, who have been denied this service spectacle for years.

The House's measure gives the Bicentennial Commission of the District a splendid start in overtaking the game. No other city has yet applied for the contest and no other city's bid can be dignified by such a resolution as that adopted by the House unanimously yesterday.

Congressman William B. Bankhead has started single-handedly and effectively a job for Dr. George O. Haverner, executive secretary of the District of Columbia Bicentennial Commission, to finish. Dr. Haverner is assured support that no other athletic event ever received, and bright, indeed, do the prospects for an Army-Navy game here appear this morning.

Despite the fact that the eligibility breach which occurred in 1927 is yet unbridged, there is little reason to suppose that the two academies desire to continue far apart in their athletic schedules. Expressions from the student bodies and graduate organizations of both institutions have repeatedly stated the desire to renew their former rivalry, and it is not too much to presume that the varsity squads of both academies are anxious to play each other.

It is not too much to presume, either, that both academies, while hewing to their determination to stand by their respective eligibility codes, are itching for an excuse to resume their rivalry, and the action in Congress yesterday certainly ought to be provocative enough.

The House's action should be flattering, indeed, to the two service academies. Never in the history of sports had a game or other event been treated with such official seriousness as a congressional resolution.

There was not a dissenting vote in the balloting on Representative Bankhead's measure. It is certainly the sense of the House that it would be both meet and proper for the Army and Navy not only to resume their athletic relations, but to play their 1932 game as a part of the 200th anniversary of the birth of the Father of the Country, and the first commander in chief of both branches of the service.

That the Army and Navy are awaiting some official suggestion that they play this year is apparent, inasmuch as both institutions refrained from filing a mutual open date, December 3, that would provide a day for the game if such were finally scheduled. They left the door open for the District of Columbia Bicentennial Commission, and the House yesterday gave the way for the overtures of Dr. Haverner and his associates on the commission.

The District of Columbia sports program without an Army-Navy game threatens to collapse. A full program of free shows has been outlined with the possibility that both can be staged a mutual open date, December 3, that would provide a day for the game if such were finally scheduled. They left the door open for the District of Columbia Bicentennial Commission, and the House yesterday gave the way for the overtures of Dr. Haverner and his associates on the commission.

Godwin Wins Tick On Now Easily Over Favored in Derby

Champion Is Master Top Flight Withdrawn Except for Short With Three Other Eastern Hopes. Period in 7th. Kauffman Colt, Rated Choice, Works Out at the Downs.

By JACK ESPEY.

POURING leather without a let-up through his foe's wide-open defense, Bob Godwin decisively defeated Cowboy Owen Phelps to retain his Southern light-heavyweight championship in Portner Arena last night. More than 2,000 fans watched the titlholder thus clinch another rung on the ladder to national recognition.

The bout was hard-fought from start to finish, but developed no knockdowns, though both fighters were joined several times. Most of the battling was confined to close quarters where many vicious punches escaped the view of fans sitting beyond ringade.

In all departments Godwin proved superior, his defense withstanding Phelps' long, loping left jab in the seventh round, and his nicely timed attack scoring cleanly at both short and long range.

Phelps, as rough and tough as his nickname indicates, showed little fear of the champion's fire, but had been less than successful in his previous bouts, and he was expected to be the blow which would have ended the bout, but he was absorbed in many months.

Cowboy Connects With Left.

The Cowboy, who ranks along with Godwin among the world's best ten light-heavyweights, had a big moment in the eighth round, this coming in the seventh, when he exploded a sweeping left hook on Bob's whiskers. The blow visibly hurt the Southerner, causing him to back up and then hold to recover.

But the champion weathered the storm in good shape and for the balance of the route relied on a left jab and his right overhand right, which withstood an injured right. Godwin's right showed a slight swelling after the bout, the result, he stated, of bouncing one off Phelps' head.

The feature bout helped to sweeten the crowd's taste following the eight-round semifinal in which Clarence Sloan, Baltimore lightweight, put up a valiant fight against the winner was Harry "Beebe" Barron, of New York, who took every round.

Sloan Holds Barron.

Sloan, who packs a dangerous right hand but cannot shoot, it again a clever boxer, endeavored throughout the fight to hold Barron's arms instead of trying to do a little punching on his own. The result was a slow, torturing, mauling match which ended with a referee's stoppage.

Roddy Davis, fast-improving local lightweight, easily outpointed Chuck Henderson, of Memphis, despite a weight handicap of 12 pounds. Davis beat his opponent to the punch the entire four rounds. In other preliminaries of same duration, Buck Taylor, Baltimore lightweight, defeated Willie Essinger, of Washington, and K. O. Burns, Baltimore middleweight, beat Sammy Britt, of Philadelphia.

Another Nat Run Killed at Plate

Heinie Manush tried to go all the way from first to home on West's double in the fourth, but Gehrig's relay of Ruth's return throw nipped him. Picture shows Catcher Bill Dickey making the out.

BOLLING MAT BOUTS ON TONIGHT

Koloff-Heslin to Meet in Listed Feature on Program.

JOURNEYMEN rasslers, the kind that take bids on the nose for the sake of dear old Bower College, and never think a thing of it, will make up tonight's card of grapples at Bolling Field, the Little Theater of Rosharing, where every customer gets a growler in his lap before the evening is over.

The feature of this featureless card is a bout between Dan Koloff, known to the craft as the "Bulgarian Lion," and Jim Heslin, who is evidently so good that he does not have to have a venomous subtitle. Koloff is a member of the old school that spent most of their time sitting or reclining in easy postures holding hands, but is very strong and has modernized his game to the extent of a back kick-knife dive or hold, which is said to be spectacular.

Wyoff Will Tackle Leashman.

In the next-to-feature bout Lee Wyoff, a reformed big league pitcher, is down on the form book to meet Charley Leashman, about whom not much is known in the District. Danny Winters, one of the most popular boys who work at Bolling, meets Pat Riley, while August Benker, who has won a series of prize fights in Australia, will sail from Los Angeles June 4 for a series of prize fights in Australia this summer.

CRONIN HITS HOMER, TRIPLE AND DOUBLE IN 5TH WIN IN ROW

Shortstop's Clout Into Bleachers With Myer on Base Gives Nats Two-Run Lead in First; First Defeat for Gomez.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

GETTING full value out of thirteen hits, which included a homer, a triple and double by Joe Cronin and a double and three-base by Sammy West, the Nationals yesterday delighted a large Monday gathering of about 6,000 by turning in their fifth successive victory. The final count was 10 to 3, with the victory increasing the Washington club's lead to a full game and, coupled with a Cleveland triumph, sending their victims, the New York Yankees, down to third place in the standing.

Washington's victory was a 10-3 rout of the Yankees, marking the fifth straight win for the Nationals. Joe Cronin hit a home run, a triple, and a double in the fifth inning, leading the team to a two-run lead. The game was played at Griffith Stadium.

IN THE WAKE OF THE GAME

FOLLOWING a series sweep over the Mackmen, the Nationals came to give the Yankees the same dose and may accomplish this, recorded, although Carl Fisher, in the first game of the three-game set with the New Yorkers.

As southpaws have been fairly effective in the two triumphs already recorded, Fisher, who has served no bouquets for his showing yesterday, Manager Walter Johnson will use another this afternoon. It will be Bobby Burke, who has won the only game he started and who was quite a puzzle to the Yankees in a relief role in New York last Tuesday.

Joe McCarthy, pilot of the victors is expected to call on either Paul V. Andrews, a promising right-handed rookie, or Herb Pennock, veteran southpaw. As the latter best the Nationals in New York last week, the chances are that he will get the call.

Following Sunday's victory over the Yankees, President Clark Griffith received the following telegram from Phil Ball, president of the St. Louis Browns: "Well, well, well. Keep up the good work until the Browns knock you off."

Pitcher Frank Wolf, formerly of the Philadelphia Athletics, worked out with the Nationals yesterday. He has been appointed on the District police force.

Fischer pitched seven successive balls to Ruth and Gehrig in the first, walking the Babe on four straight and having three on Gehrig before pitching a strike. Both walked, filling the bases with one out.

The count was three and one on Cronin in the first and Gomez was forced to ground out. Instead of waiting to coax a pass, the Nat shortstop maced it into the stands in deep center for his second homer of the year.

Reynolds made a leaping one-hand grab to rob Dickey of at least a double in the second. Crossett was on first at the time.

Farrell made his first hit of the year opening the third. It was the third successive inning in which the Yankees lead-off man assted.

Gehrig surely keeps those tabs on the game. When Manush fanned for the second out in the third, the first starter tossed away his glove and started for the Yankee dugout.

Dickey made one of the longest singles seen here this year in the fourth. He shot one high up the right-field fence near the foul line, but Reynolds played the rebound perfectly and the batter hardly had time to round first.

Gomez walked Bludge to fill the bases with one dead in the fourth. This, naturally, pleased Berg, and he proceeded to single cleanly to left, scoring two mates.

Judge did not have a putout as first until Byrd rolled to Cronin opening the fifth.

Frank Barland pitched three good innings in the bull pen, being busy all of the first three. Then Bob Burke relieved him in the fifth, later being joined by Marberry. The latter got the call in the ninth round.

Manush accepted his first c's when he came under Jorgens' fly in the eighth. On the next play, Bludge had his first fielding opportunity.

The first balk of the season called for a charge to Marberry in the ninth. Then he made another jump to show his independence. Sewell advancing from first to third on them.

Robins Stop Giants, 3-1, Vance, Wright Starring

New York, May 2 (A.P.).—Two Brooklyn veterans, Dazzy Vance and Glenn Wright, teamed up to trim the Giants, 3 to 1, today.

Vance kept eight Giant hits scattered over seven innings and would have had a shutout but for Cuccinello's error in the seventh. Wright tripled in the eighth with two aboard for the winning runs.

Reds' Rally Short As Cards Win, 2 to 1

St. Louis, May 2 (A.P.).—Sylvester Johnson shut out the rebuilt Cincinnati Reds for eight innings here today and the St. Louis Cardinals took the first of a three-game series, 2 to 1.

Jimmy Collins continued his batting streak with a homer in the fourth, scoring Adams ahead of him, and gave the Cardinals their winning run. Sylvester Johnson gave the Reds only four hits.

Chuck Hafe, the former Cardinal, almost upset his former teammates' game when he broke loose with a double in the ninth. He scored on a double by Shellen, who had been unable to continue their threat.

Virginia Varsity, Frosh Beat Maryland Trackmen

MARYLAND on the track, 60 to 12, and in the field events, 44 to 9.

Maryland pointed the way on the track in the yearling meet, 36 to 27, but Virginia counted 34 to 10, in the field events to land the meet.

Milton Abramson, of Virginia, former Devitt School athlete, with 11 points, was high-point man in the varsity meet. He won the 100, was second in the 220-yard dash and led the scorchers in the freshmen meet.

He won both hurdle events and the broad jump. In the latter event he leaped 21 feet 2 inches against a performance of 20 feet 5 inches made by Hristoff, of the Cavaliers, who hurled the discus 133 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Davis Boys Hit Timely As Phils Beat Braves

Philadelphia, May 2 (A.P.).—The Phillies defeated Boston in the first game of a series here today by the score of 7 to 2.

Heavy hitting by the two Davises, George and Virgil, accounted for six of the seven runs scored. Chuck Klein hit his third home run of the season in the seventh inning. Schulmerich also hit one out of the park, scoring Berger ahead of him in the first inning.

John W. Rust was elected first vice president; C. T. Rice, second vice president; Judge Paul E. Brown, secretary, and Edgar Littleton, treasurer. George White was selected as delegate to the district convention which will be held tomorrow, Thursday and Friday, in Danville, Va.

Directors elected were Mr. Donovan, Mr. Rice, Senator Rust, James E. Nickell, Mr. Littleton and Dr. T. Ramsey Taylor. The principal speaker was J. Edward Thompson, of Philadelphia, Pa.

The Lee District Improvement Association, at its monthly meeting in the school house at Lorton, Va., elected M. D. Hall, of Burke, as president; Will Halley, of Ox Road, vice president; W. H. Cranford, of Lorton

The new State road law, under which the highway department takes over the maintenance and construction of all roads in the system on July 1, provided the voters of the county do not vote to withdraw from provisions of the act, was placed before Senator Ross' committee, which he believed that he believed it a great tax relieving measure, especially to the farmers. He declared that he believed the State can build roads more efficiently and economically than the counties could.

Martin T. Webb, of Annandale, led the discussion for the opponents.

of thereof. He declared that while the proponents of the law state that it is a tax relief for the farmers, he does not tell the people that it will benefit the corporations to a much larger extent. He declared that Fairfax County the corporation would be relieved of "paying $26.00 in road taxes alone. He stated that he believes one of the greatest discriminations in the act against rural communities was that cities over 3,500 inhabitants with a mile or fraction thereof of State road get $1.50 a mile, while the entire amount

Thad Gray and his wife, Lemmie, of Clifton Station, were arrested yesterday by State Probation Inspector Virgil Williams and Sheriff E. E. Kirby on charges of violation of the State Probation law. Gray was charged with possession of a stolen liquor and a still, and his wife was charged with sale and possession of ardent spirits. A police officer alleged that liquor was seized, but none of the prisoners were taken to Fairfax and given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Thornton P. Chapman, who ordered them to be in the dock for the grand jury at the next term of Fairfax County Circuit Court.

MR. HOOVER AT THE TROUT POOL.

LISSSEN, Trout! You're well off, at that! You're hunted and annoyed. Harassed and abused, yes. But you've got it on me. In more ways than one: Nature's given you some swell hiding places and you've got protective coloring. Anybody can see me for miles!

There's not much peace for either of us, but you've got the advantage. I'd give a lot to be able to hide behind a rock when those reporters come. Or stay under a mossy ledge when the photographers come swooping down.

IT would be swell to dive to the bottom of a deep pool. Where the politicians, handshakers and lobbyists couldn't even see me. Or dart under an old log or into an old boot. Whenever some delegation of pests came to see me. Boy, would I love it!

You have your troubles, but no camera hounds. No newspaper reporters. Trail you all the time, and you don't have to lay corner stones. Christian battleships, open new lodges, press buttons and throw out first baseballs. All you've got to do is not eat anything with a hook in it. If that were my only worry I'd be tickled silly!

SUNNY. . . Here I am stalk- ing you. Up a brook and trying to give you the hook, and yet I know exactly how it feels to be in your position. I've been in it myself for the last four years, and have I been a victim of illegal tackle and unsportsmanlike tactics? Say, the gang that's after me. Like worms and everything. And throws nothing back. As too small!

You're lucky. What? You don't think so? All right, Trout, I'll make you a proposition. Liassen: I'll change places; I'll come down in that nice, clean, deep, cool pool. You balance the budget!

The Low-Down on Daylight Saving.

Daylight saving means that you have an extra hour to sit and observe that it's been a long, hard day.

Calvin Coolidge has ordered electric lights in the old homestead at Plymouth, Vt. But we won't believe he's turned definitely progressive until we hear that he's stopped starting the fire in the old kitchen stove by rubbing two stones together.

INSURANCE CHIEFS GUESTS IN CAPITAL

Connecticut Mutual Agency
Visited by V. B. Coffin and F. B. Smith.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Members of the Washington agency of Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co., headed by John L. McElfresh, will have as their guests today, Vincent B. Coffin, superintendent of agencies of the company, and George F. B. Smith, agency assistant. Mr. Coffin will outline at the conference three steps in successful life insurance writing and will also discuss motivation in selling. Mr. Smith will review the company's financial statement of 1931, and talk on this year's sales planning.

Mr. Coffin is well known in the insurance field, having had a varied and wide experience in the theory and actual practice of selling life insurance. He came to the Connecticut Mutual Co. last September from his former position as educational director of the Penn Mutual Co. of Philadelphia. Starting in the business as an agent, Mr. Coffin was formerly in charge of the insurance training class of New York University.

Mr. Smith is a graduate of Amherst College, class of 1925, and is an experienced life insurance man, having entered the business immediately after graduation. For the past two years he has been an agency assistant, devoting his time to educational matters and training activities.

Business Machines Net.
International Business Machines Corporation reports for the three months ended March 31, net earnings after all charges and Federal tax of $1,894,000. This compares with similar earnings for the corresponding 1931 period of $1,890,663. In each instance the figures include earnings of foreign subsidiaries.

Since the middle of last year the corporation has introduced seven new models in its electrical accounting and tabulating machine line, which have considerably extended the uses for this type of equipment, judging by the widening demand that has resulted. Thomas J. Watson, president, reported to members of the executive committee. During the same period, the company has introduced new industrial scale units and new models of time recording equipment.

The consistent development work undertaken by the company during the past seventeen years, together with the fact that the sales forces here and abroad have been steadily increased, has enabled the company to maintain its current earnings despite general conditions prevailing during the past two and a half years, Mr. Watson stated.

Bankers' Meeting Set.
The annual spring business meeting of the District of Columbia Bankers Association will be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the board room of the American Security & Trust Co., in the American Security Building. Pending congressional legislation will be considered and reports from the recent annual meeting of the American Bankers Association will be given by President Robert V. Fleming, Riggs National Bank, chairman of the association's legislative council; President Francis G. Addison, Jr., Security Savings & Commercial Bank, local association representative in the national organization; and Vice President Howard Moran, American Security & Trust Co., executive councilman, savings bank division of the national association.

Copper Price Declines To New All-Time Low
New York, May 2 (A.P.).—The Engineering and Mining Journal says that copper sold at 5½ cents a pound at the end of the week, registering the lowest level at which the metal has ever sold.

A canvass of the market indicates that some copper may be available at 5½ cents, but prices are nominal and it is difficult to determine the actual quotation from day to day.

There is practically no demand in the domestic market, it is said. Abroad the price remains at 6 cents with sales small.

WALL STREET AND BEYOND Markets and Business in Review and Outlook

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN.

FACING a vote on some of the more blunderbuss items of pure political pork in the $1,000,000,000 veterans' bill for 1933, the House of Representatives stands this morning at an historic fork in the economy roadway. Individually, every honorable member must decide whether he will strike out courageously to end the most disgraceful racket ever organized on a national scale in the name of patriotism, or allow the unblinking political cudgeling of our C. O. D. heroes to entrench itself more firmly at the Treasury trough.

The amended schedule of allowances, pensions, gratuities and subventions which comes up today in the consideration of the emergency economy bill proposes to strike off $50,000,000 a year in veterans' grant, and to push off of the national free-lunch list some 50,000 persons who have not the slightest claim, under any perversion of equity or justice, to a monthly handout from Uncle Sam.

One section of the bill would deny all pensions or allowances and all free hospitalization and domiciliary care to any person who enjoys a net income of $1,500 a year, if single, or $3,500 a year, if married—except in the case of soldiers "who were actually engaged in combat with the enemy, who served in a zone of hostilities or who were actually under fire."

THE principle of this rule is obvious. It is, merely, that former service men who are able to support themselves have no claim on their Government in the name of patriotism. Yet the House economy committee has reported that this single amendment would strike 23,300 persons from the rolls of the Veterans' Administration at an annual saving of $13,315,000.

A second amendment provides that in the future no World War veteran shall be able to increase his monthly check automatically to $80 by the mere act of leaving home and turning himself over bodily to a Federal hospital, as at present. This readjustment will save $5,370,000 a year which now is being doled out to 9,930 persons who find Uncle Sam a bigger "financial boob" than even Secretary Hyde suspects.

In the words of the special economy committee, the existing provision of the veterans' act of 1924 "makes it attractive for the veteran to remain in the hospital or home, although he may be able to leave."

All of the nine proposed revisions of the veterans' doles are aimed at equally disgraceful arrangements for legalized boodles.

In a thousand ways during the last fourteen years the people of the United States have signified unequivocally their intention of discharging every genuine obligation of national honor toward those whose war services and battlefield injuries entitle them to care and compensation. But the Nation as a whole has been unwilling heretofore to face the stark fact that this high obligation of a truly grateful people has been exploited politically to one of the most lucrative rackets in lobbying and patrioteering ever chronicled in the history of man. Congress, alone, can stop it.

When the year of grace 1942 rolls around the State and Federal governments of this country will have paid out for veterans' pensions and hospitalization the staggering sum of $30,000,000,000. Including the proportional share of interest on the public debt since 1918, $10,000,000,000 of this amount already has been paid.

And how much is $20,000,000,000? Well, it would buy the entire railroad plant of the United States for $18,000,000,000, plus the entire electric light and power plant, at $6,000,000,000, plus the entire telephone establishment, including broadcasting stations, at $4,000,000,000, plus an entire normal year's production of passenger automobiles, at $2,000,000,000, wholesale value.

Or we may purchase the $30,000,000,000 in single-family dwellings valued at $10,000 each. The total veterans' bill by 1942, under the present schedule of allowances, would build 3,000,000 such houses.

Placed at 50-foot intervals on both sides of a single street, they would make an avenue of homes 14,200 miles long.

Stated another way, the veterans' bill would establish a double string of $10,000 homes from New York to San Francisco four times and then another double-row from Washington, D. C., to Jacksonville, Fla.

All of these calculations, of course, are without allowance for street intersections.

And, today, the House votes on the racket.

WINE BRICK STORE RAIDED BY FEDERAL AGENTS AND POLICE

$10,000 in Stock Taken in
First of Series of Test
Cases Is Won.

EIGHT MEN ARE INDICTED ON GAMBLING CHARGES

More Accusations Expected
as Result of Second Raid Recently.

The first of a series of raids on stores selling wine bricks and grape concentrates was conducted yesterday afternoon at 824 Twelfth street northwest, by members of the Federal Prohibition Department and local police.

Lieut. George M. Little, head of the special investigation squad, led the raid on the Cut-Rate Bottle Supply Co., said by police to be owned by Ita T. Byram, and wine grape bricks and bottling supplies valued at $10,000 were confiscated.

Two men, William W. Galaway, 23 years old, of 633 Eighth street northeast, and George McGrath, 25 years old, of Hyattsville, Md., were arrested and charged with sale and possession of articles designed to violate the Volstead act.

More Raids Planned.

It convicted in Police Court, other raids will be made on similar stores, according to District Attorney Leo A. Rorer, who personally directed the raid.

Lieut. Little declared that in this and other raids in the future on places which sell material to violate the prohibition law, not only the concentrates but the entire contents of the stores would be seized.

The first series of gambling raids, staged under the active supervision of the Department of Justice and led by P. D. Glassford, superintendent of police, reached a near climax yesterday when three indictments, charging eight men with violations of the gambling laws, were returned by the District grand jury.

Alleged Gamblers Named.

Those indicted were Percy Clinton Jones, Joseph Harry Linkins, John Aloysius Mahoney, Edward Roach, George D. Craig, Fred Filahn, Joseph D. Ruppel and Clifford Voorhes.

Additional indictments are expected to be filed against other alleged gamblers next week, as the police made a series of raids here Saturday for the second successive week.

The three places raided on April 23 were 713 I street northwest, 815 23rd street northwest, and 1402 I street northwest. In the raid directed by Gen. Glassford at Fourteenth and I streets, northeast, Jones was the only man arrested. The warrant used there was written by the police chief on authority seldom used by him.

The other two raids were made allegedly after Lawrence M. Carey, of the Department of Justice, had visited the places and had made wagers.

Jones is charged with setting up and maintaining a gambling table, while all the others are charged with operating black jack, cards, and horse racing establishments.

Marriage Tangle Solved by Decision

Court Holds Invalid Union
Legitimized by Removed Legal Bar.

An invalid marriage may be legitimized by the removal of the legal bar, the District Court of Appeals said yesterday in reversing a decision in which the District Supreme Court dismissed a suit for annulment brought by David Fulmore Smith against Gertrude Antonette Smith.

Mrs. Smith had married Ralph Charnock in Rhode Island in 1921. At that time Charnock was not fully divorced from a previous wife, but at the end of a six months' period his divorce did become final, and when it did his subsequent marriage became valid, the court held.

This marriage being legal, Mrs. Charnock was not herself able to marry until a divorce had been granted. In the meantime, she, believing her first marriage invalid, married David Smith in July, 1926, at which time "she was the lawful wife of Ralph Charnock."

YOUTH SHOT IN ANKLE
Fleeing From Box Car

Frank Davis, colored, 21 years old, of the first block of I street northeast, was shot in the ankle by a railroad detective early yesterday when he was caught allegedly robbing a box car at S. W. C. Co.'s warehouse at Tenth and I streets northeast.

He was treated at Casualty Hospital and later removed to Gallinger, where he is under police guard. He was shot when he attempted to flee from Emory E. Nicholson, a detective for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Trade Group Hits
Senate Tax Bill

Further Levy in District on Transportation Is Opposed.

A bill now before the United States Senate, which, if enacted into law, would impose additional taxes on the transportation and other industries of the District, was opposed yesterday by the Washington Chamber of Commerce at its luncheon meeting in the Raleigh Hotel.

The chamber's position on this bill was previously fixed by studies of its committee on District finance. This committee opposed any attempt at "unequal taxation," declaring that tax adjustments must be preceded by a proper study of all tax sources and the relative burdens which they would bear.

Following a discussion on the subject of taxicab regulation, the question was referred to a subcommittee for further consideration.

GIRL WHO VANISHED ACCUSES PRISONER BILL TO BE PUSHED

11-Year-Old Child Tells Story That Results in Serious Charge.

A statutory charge was placed against Charles A. Heidt, 26 years old, of 207 Third street northeast, last night on the strength of a story told by 11-year-old Isabel Wolfe, who disappeared from her home at 4929 Fourth street northwest for two days and an examination of the girl by physicians at the Women's Bureau.

A woman who first claimed to be Heidt's wife, but who later admitted police say that her real name is Loy Lovelace Qualls, of Slaughter, Ky., and Marshall Beasley, a friend, are being held as material witnesses.

Detective J. O. Patton, of the Sixth Precinct, who located the girl at the home of an aunt in Baltimore Sunday, said Isabel related how Heidt had met her and another girl at Third and Emerson streets northwest Friday morning. According to the girl's story, Heidt took them to ride, finally stopping at a secluded spot in the Soldiers' Home grounds.

The other little girl got out of the car, but returned a short time later, Isabel said, and Heidt drove them both home, but arranged to meet Isabel later in the day.

This time he took her to a lonely spot near the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks and attacked her, she said. Then he drove her to Pennsylvania avenue and C streets and went in a place there, leaving her in the car.

While he was gone, the Qualls woman is said to have come by and launched a tirade at her for being in Heidt's car. The child said she ran from the car and hid in the doorway of a house on C street. Heidt came out and drove away with the woman.

The girl said she spent the night behind a fence in the southwest section and early Saturday morning went to Baltimore.

Auto Driver Arrested
When Child Is Injured

An automobile driver was arrested on charges of reckless driving yesterday in connection with an accident in which a 7-year-old girl was slightly injured.

Estelle Wolowitz, of 1361 Newton street northwest, was knocked down at Fourteenth and Newton streets northwest. She was taken to her home with bruises and contusions. Police arrested William M. Nick, colored, 50 years old, of 1908 Fifth street northwest. He was released on $30 bond.

Put on Probation

Plea of Fourth for New Trial Still Pending;
Fifth Freed.

Three of the four persons found guilty of simple assault upon Charles E. Haury, supervisor of the International Union of Operating Engineers, were placed on probation for three months yesterday by Justice James M. Proctor in District Supreme Court.

They are Robert Ely and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ely, and William E. Green, the fourth convicted, still has pending a motion for a new trial. A fifth defendant, Clarence Rockenbaugh, was found not guilty.

The defendant convicted of attacking Haury at Tenth and K streets, in March, 1931.

Capper to Map Plans Soon For Drive to Slash Rents

Chairman Arthur Capper, of the Senate District committee, who has launched a drive on the District's high rents, will wait a week or ten days before determining on a course of legislative action.

Letters poured into his office yesterday from District residents who heard his speech Saturday night, suggesting reestablishment of the War Rent Commission as one method of restoring rents to the level of commodity prices.

Letter writers pointed out that in view of projected Government salary

CHILDREN OF ALL AGES TAKE PART IN PROGRAM

Thousands Join in Parades in Various Sections; Events to Continue Today.

Bicentennial pageantry was combined with games, exercises and athletic contests yesterday in schools and playgrounds, as children throughout the city celebrated May Day Child Health Day.

Special playground activities drew nearly 20,000 children, while thousands more youngsters took part in school exercises.

Child Health Day, which was proclaimed nationally by President Herbert Hoover, was observed here under the direction of the May Day child health committee, which was led by Dr. Joseph A. Murphy, chief inspector of public schools for the District Health Department.

Playground Time Allotted.

Playground activities were allotted at different hours to different age groups of children. Between 1:30 and 3 o'clock the playgrounds were open to youngsters under 10 years of age and 3:30 to 5:30 to older children.

The playground program, opened with a health parade, followed by games and special exercises. There were displays of kindergarten work symbolic of May day.

Presentations of trophies to children for their adeptness in athletic feats was a feature of the program for the older children, as were scholastic and baseball games.

A National radio address by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur will further the child health feature today. It will be given at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Early Dances Feature.

At Wheatley School a May day festival and pageant was given by the children. Early American dances were featured in the program.

The first bit on the program depicted a May day observance at Mount Vernon. A flower dance before the May queen, who was crowned by Miss E. M. Geiger, was performed by kindergarten children, while Gen. Washington watched.

Other events on the program included a French minuteman, a colonial band, English dances and games, a Virginia reel and an early American folk dance.

Continental Drill Staged.

Children from the kindergarten to the fifth grade took part in a continental drill and May pole dance which concluded the program. This was followed by the summer "round-up" campaign.

The health drive began last week when nearly 800 children were given first degree treatment by members of the District Dental Society.

Bleeding Prisoner
Taken to Hospital

Police Believe His Skull
Was Fractured in Fight
Last Month.

A prisoner was taken from his cell at the Sixth Precinct Station to Gallinger Hospital early yesterday morning when he suddenly began to bleed from the mouth. Police feared his skull had been fractured in a fight on April 16.

The man, James Henry Cape, 22 years old, of Greensboro, N. C., was arrested on an investigation charge Saturday night at a carnival at Piney Branch road and Georgia avenue.

Cape's cellmate, Charles A. Heidt, held in connection with the disappearance of 11-year-old Isabel Wolfe, noticed his condition and called for aid.

Bicentennial Is Marked
By Kenilworth Citizens

Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Crosby, District Commissioner, former Representative of the District, and Edwin S. Hege were among the speakers who addressed the Bicentennial celebration held last night at the Kenilworth Hotel.

Interesting musical features were part of the celebration. Mrs. Amy Farr sang the Bicentennial song, "Father of the Land We Love." Miss Adeline Cissell delivered several recitations.

UTILITY GROUP ACTS TO INCREASE SAFETY OF CAPITAL'S BUSES

Drivers Are Prohibited From Working More Than 12 Consecutive Hours.

SHATTER-PROOF GLASS REQUIRED IN VEHICLES

Erection of Garage-Depot at 54 Massachusetts Avenue Is Approved.

Regulations designed to increase the safety of bus operation in Washington were adopted yesterday by the Public Utilities Commission as a culmination of evidence gathered at a public hearing last week, and an investigation of the fatal crash between motor vehicles of the Capital Traction Co. and the Washington Railway & Electric Co. on April 1.

Only one of the safety rules required an immediate change in the policies of the transportation lines, however, as the others have to do with replacement and repairs of buses now in use. No bus driver hereafter will be permitted to work for more than twelve consecutive hours, and he is required to take a rest period of eight hours in every 24.

Make Special Trips.

Testimony of street railway officials revealed that frequently drivers are allowed to make special trips after operating a bus on a full day's schedule. These extra trips were solicited, it was said, because of the opportunity they offer the drivers to earn additional money.

Despite the contentions of the Public Utilities Commission, however, the commission, in its order, states that all replacements of windshield or window glass in intracity buses shall be of shatter-proof glass and all new vehicles must be so equipped.

Must Be of Steel.

Likewise all new buses or the bodies of motor vehicles rebuilt must be of all-steel construction as against the composite bodies of wood and metal. Air brakes also are required.

Traction officials had testified that mechanical and hydraulic brakes are just as effective if in proper order.

The commission gave some consideration to the controversy over the location of a gas holder in the Northeast as proposed by the Washington Gas Light Co., but reached no decision.

Edwin C. Potter, local composer, solicited the support of the association for the Washington Symphony Orchestra, and praised the efforts of Hans Kandler, conductor of the Symphony.

The following officers were elected at the meeting: Col. John O. Johnson, president; Leslie B. Wright, recording secretary; Mrs. William Messers, corresponding secretary and Commander F. L. Sandor, treasurer.

Demurrer Upheld
In Damage Action

Man's Suit Against Express
Company for Injuries
Held Defective.

The District Supreme Court was right when it upheld a demurrer filed by the Railway Express Agency, Inc., in a suit brought against it by Joseph Carter.

Center, according to the suit, was injured when he fell against some boards that had been placed from the top of a company truck to a flight of steps so that heavy merchandise could be delivered.

The suit claimed that the boards were negligently placed in that position, and that the company was liable in principle, the higher court said.

"Negligence resulting from the careless employment of a lawful method, must be alleged," the declaration, and the facts upon which such negligence is predicated must be set forth, in all of which the present declaration is defective."

'Pole' Thefts
Laid to 2 Boys
In 28 Charges

The "pole" apartment robberies were believed by police last night to be ended with the placing of 28 charges of housebreaking against Oscar Reel and William Smith, both colored, and 18 years old. The police, according to police, did not hesitate to break open apartment houses, but they also had a much more ingenious technique.

They usually carried two long poles. One of these was equipped with a goodly amount of chewing gum plastered on the business end, and the other bore a hook. If a careless householder left money near an open window, the chewing gum soon brought it down to the robbers, police said.

They used the hook in taking clothing and other valuables, it was said. What goods the youths could not dispose of through sale, they tore into a sewer, according to police.

Woman, 68, Found Dead
In Bed by Her Sister

Mrs. Marcella Blanche Siggers, 68 years old, of 3033 Sixteenth street northwest, was found dead in bed in her home by her sister, Mrs. Edna S. Morse, of 6809 Fifth street northwest, yesterday morning when she came to call.

When she did not receive any answer to her knocking, Mrs. Morse became alarmed and called the janitor of the apartment house. They found her in bed and called the Casualty Hospital ambulance. She was pronounced dead by the ambulance surgeon. A certificate of death from natural causes was issued by the coroner.

FOREST HILL GROUP OFFICERS ELECTED RAPS JURY SYSTEM

Revision Urged to Speed Up
Justice; Col. Johnson Is Elected President.

Stating that the present jury system retarded justice in many cases, the Forest Hill Citizens Association, at a meeting last night at the Ben W. Murch School, adopted a resolution in favor of revising the system.

Selection of jurors on their educational and economic qualification was urged at the meeting. The association advocated a smaller jury panel as an additional reform.

A resolution to change the name of Tilden street to Rock Creek Parkway was adopted by the group. The change of name is appropriate, the meeting believed, as the roadway is a main entrance to Rock Creek Park.

The following officers were elected at the meeting: Col. John O. Johnson, president; Leslie B. Wright, recording secretary; Mrs. William Messers, corresponding secretary and Commander F. L. Sandor, treasurer.

Confiscation of Auto With Liquor Ruled Legal in Appeals Court.

It is not necessary, the District Court of Appeals held yesterday, to arrest or convict the driver of a liquor laden automobile in order to confiscate the machine under the terms of Section 3450 of the Revised Statutes. The statute provides, it was said, that every vehicle used in the transportation, concealment or removal of liquor upon which no tax had been paid was subject to confiscation.

The decision was made in a case involving a large sedan, which had been rented by the Hertz Drive-Yourself Stations, Inc., to an alleged bootlegger. The company, the court held, was not aware of the police record of the man to whom the car was rented.

After the auto was seized with liquor the Hertz company brought suit to return its car, and was successful, but United States Attorney Leo A. Rorer carried the case to the Court of Appeals, which yesterday reversed and remanded the case with instructions to proceed with a new trial along lines "not inconsistent with this decision."

Apartment Hotel
Is Sold at Auction

Franklin Park Building Is Bought by Union Trust for $300,000.

The Franklin Park Hotel, eight-story apartment building at 1332 I street northwest, was purchased at public auction yesterday by President Ord Preston, Union Trust Co., representing that institution, for $300,000.

The sale was advertised by the Washington Loan & Trust Co., trustee. Vernon G. Owen was the auctioneer.

The building, originally known as the Brunswick, was erected in 1903 by the Brunswick Apartment House Co. at an estimated cost of $90,000.

B. S. Simmons was the architect. The building, of brick, stone and iron construction, contains 330 rooms, is 64 feet wide and 144 feet deep. Its current assessed valuation is $345,790, of which $155,790 is for land and $190,000 for building.

Subsequent owners are listed as Felix Lake, Crutten, G. Donaldson, Emily M. Stubbins, Gertrude T. Barber, W. Gilbert Dent, W. Gilbert Dent, B. Dent, Maxwell W. Kimberling, W. Eugene Sanders, Charles M. Nash, Samuel J. Solomon and Thomas G. Dade, Samuel J. Solomon, William B. French, Blue Ridge Investment Co., Inc.

Machine Gunners Refuse
'Aid' of Passerby in Alley

The first time Albert Thompson, colored, of 826 Fourth street northwest, offered aid to strange motorists, he will probably look pretty closely beforehand. He nearly got in a jam with a sextet of machine gunners by attempting to be helpful, he told police last night.

Thompson said he was going home through an alley between Third and Fourth and H and I streets north-west when he saw some men working on a large green-bodied sedan parked in the alley. He said he approached them and asked if they needed help.

As one of the men replied with a burst of profanity, he saw that they were putting an Ohio license plate over an Illinois tag. Thompson said. One of the men demanded to know what he was doing there and Thompson explained hurriedly that he was just on his way home.

Walking to the front of the car, Thompson said he noticed that the Illinois tag had not been changed, and then saw a man sitting in the front seat was calmly filling a machine gun. Thompson said he saw the license tags and then reported to police. A radio broadcast was sent out for the car and the three white and three colored men supposed to be in it.

FEDERAL BAR GROUP IS APPOINTED TO ACT ON BANKRUPTCY BILL

G. W. S. Musgrave Named
President of New Association.

MEETING IS ARRANGED WITH NATIONAL BODY

Leader Says Few Simple
Changes in Law Should Be Sufficient.

From a gathering of veteran Federal court lawyers of the country a group of five was appointed last night, at an organization meeting of the National Association of Federal Practitioners, to confer with a committee representing the American Bar Association this morning in regard to the proposed bankruptcy bill.

The organization meeting was held at the Raleigh in connection with a dinner. G. W. S. Musgrave, of the Baltimore and Washington Bar Associations, and a member of the firm of Musgrave, Bowling & Hesser, of Baltimore, was elected president of the association. He has had 33 years' experience in the Federal courts.

Other officers chosen: Bernard A. Iloway, of Philadelphia, first vice president; Herbert U. Feibelman, of Miami, second vice president; B. G. Watson, of Columbia, Ohio, third vice president; and Max Isaac, of New York, secretary and treasurer. J. N. Burns, of Detroit, was elected chairman of the executive committee.

The committee to confer with the American Bar Association committee at 11 o'clock this morning at the Mayflower Hotel consists of Mr. Musgrave, Judge Isaac, Mr. Watson, Edgar Lincoln, of Detroit, and Mr. Burns. Jacob Mark Lesley, of St. Louis, heads the American Bar Association committee.

Bankruptcy Law Stand.

Mr. Musgrave announced that the association is not "unilaterally opposed" to the proposed new bankruptcy law, but that it is "a few simple changes could be made." But the association is opposed to the plan of having a system of administrative receivership in bankruptcy, "as apt to prove very disastrous at this peculiar time in the financial and economic conditions in world affairs."

The conference this morning is expected to result in a decision to appear before Congressional committees so as to give Congress the lawyers' side of the matter, from the back of practical experience in bankruptcy.

Speakers at last night's dinner were Representative Arthur P. Lambeck, of Ohio; Mr. Feibelman, who spoke on the discharge features of the new bankruptcy bill; Mr. Lincoln, who discussed the official trustee under the proposed legislation; and Bertram K. Wolfe, of Philadelphia, who presented views on the effect of a suspended discharge on wage-earners.
